Councilmen See Automatic 'Phone Operated in the South.

Los Angeles People Are Pleased With the Competition—Results in Better Service.

By C. E. WILSON

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—The first day's investigation of the Home Telephone Company in Los Angeles by Oakland's seven visiting Councilmen revealed the fact that competition, and competition alone, had brought this city good service.

All those who were officially interviewed by the Councilmen were unanimous in stating that before the advent of the Home Telephone Company Los Angeles was a victim of monopolistic rule and that relief was only brought when competition was brought about.

Those on the Trip

Those who inspected the workings of the Home Telephone and the Sunset Telephone were President George Fitzgerald, and Councilmen George E. Atken, H. T. Burns, William Baccus, Alexander McAdam, E. C. Hahn, and B. H. Pendleton. The train bearing the City Fathers of Oakland arrived at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

At the station the investigators were met by a delegation of the Home Company and also several representatives of the Sunset Company.

Home's Quick Service

After a temporary rest at the California Club it was decided to visit the automatic plant of the Home Company at the corner of Grand and Washington streets. Here 4000 telephones were in use. The delicate mechanism of the automatic 'phone was explained to the satisfaction of those anxious to learn its secrets.

E. L. Swain, the Superintendent, showed how the number of subscribers could be increased from 1,000 to 1,000,000 if necessary. All of the questions asked were answered to the satisfaction of the Councilmen. It was agreed that the automatic worked well and that it handled the business devolving on it almost instantaneously.

Offer of Home Company

Before the inspection of the automatic plant was made the representatives of the Home Company offered to allow the experts of the Sunset Company to accompany the party.

Engineer N. J. Prendergast of the Home Company and Attorney Robert N. Frick stated that the offer was made so that the statements made by the Sunset people before the Oakland City Council could be proved or disproved.

The offer was declined by Superintendent Lawrence of the Sunset Company.

To make the offer more binding, the Home representatives stated they would not demand the right to inspect the Sunset plant, but would be glad for any expert of the Sunset Company to point out defects in the automatic plant of the Home. The issue, even under these conditions, was declined.

After the inspection of the Home Company's automatic plant, the Councilmen visited the Sunset plant, which has been recently improved to meet the competition of the Home Company.

The Sunset exchange was found to be working in good order. After the inspection of the Sunset's plant, the party visited the manual system of the Home Company, where it was found that the public was getting quick and efficient service.

In the Sunset office there were 80 operators and in the manual department of the Home there were 90.

The total number of switches made in a day of 24 hours by the Sunset was estimated at 102,000, and the switches of the Home Company in the manual department 162,000.

The Home Company is displacing the manual switchboard rapidly by the automatic.

Councilmen Enlightened

Interviews with reporters, merchants and bankers demonstrates conclusively that the Home Company brought quicker service, cheaper rates and a more complete means of telephonic communication.

Despite the fact of competition, the Sunset Company claims that their list of subscribers has increased and that the two 'telephones have, as a matter of fact, increased its revenue.

While a few of the persons interviewed stated they thought a single telephone would be preferable to a system of double telephones, they would not for an instant revert to the old monopolistic conditions.

On the whole, the first day's investigation by the City Council was satisfactory and cleared up many objections that were made to the introduction of the Home Telephone Company in Oakland.

DEMAND MADE FOR MONEY

Payment Refused and Assault Made on Daughter of House.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Irene Grossman, a girl of 16 years, was found clubbed into insensibility in the hallway of her home early today.

The attack was the culmination of a series of nightly entries in the Grossman private entrance which were intended to enforce by "Black Hand" methods payments of money for immunity from attack.

Beginning Friday night a negro visited the house nightly, appearing only to Miss Grossman and escaping when frightened by her screams.

Despite the lookout set for him by the family, he succeeded today in reaching Miss Grossman before she had a chance to give a warning.

The girl's brother told the police that his sister had started for an early morning walk when she was attacked. He heard her screams and ran into the hallway, where he found her unconscious but saw nothing of the man.

Immediately after the clubbing the police found two pictures in the Grossman home with their faces turned to the wall and notes demanding money written on the back. The back of a photograph of Mrs. Grossman was written on: "We expect $900 from you. B. F. C."

On the back of one of her daughters' pictures was written in the same hand:

"We expect $200 from you. B. F. C."

In the two previous visits to the house the burglar had stolen several valuable pictures and more than $400 worth of silverware.

Miss Grossman's injuries are not believed to be dangerous.

BUILDING WRECKED; MEN HURT

Brick Structure Comes Down on Ten Workmen.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 25.—A brick building in the course of construction on the north side of North street near Eerkimer street collapsed this afternoon.

The crash came without warning and ten men working on the building were caught in the ruins.

Two men who were taken out were badly injured.

At 3 o'clock eight men had been rescued. All of them were badly injured. It was reported that two men were still buried in the debris.

STEAMER ASHORE; SUPPLIES ARE LOST

NEWPORT, Ore., Sept. 25.—The steamer W. H. Harrison went ashore at the entrance of Alsea Bay on Friday evening and was broken up by a heavy wind on Friday night.

The loss of the vessel is a hard blow to Alsea fishermen, as all the supplies for the cannery are lost.

CENSURE FOR HIS MAJESTY

Committee Expresses Regret That He Did Not Listen to Advice.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 25.—The executive committee of the coalition parties, summoned to discuss the situation arising from the ultimatum presented to the Hungarian leaders by the King-Emperor, has passed what amounts to a severe vote of censure of His Majesty and his advisors.

The committee in the resolution expresses the deepest regret that the King-Emperor did not listen to the statesmen summoned by him to Vienna, who represent the majority in the Hungarian parliament and constitute the reform leaders of the nation in its public affairs.

The committee further indignantly censured those who had advised His Majesty to take such a course and approves the action of the coalition leaders in refusing to negotiate with Count Goluchowski and in declining the memorandum presented by the King-Emperor as a violation of the constitution and unsuitable for the settlement of the present constitutional conflict.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Godfrey Cavagnac, who was Minister of War during the exciting period of the Dreyfus case, died suddenly today at his home at St. Calais, department of the Sarthe, which he represented in the chamber of deputies. He was born in Paris in 1852.

BLOWN UP IN AIR BY FIREWORKS

Workmen Killed in Explosion, Wife and 3 Sons Fatally Hurt.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—A small fireworks factory in the Green Point section of Brooklyn was today blown up and an Italian named Spierzo was instantly killed.

His wife and three sons were fatally hurt.

Spierzo was blown through the roof of the little wooden building in which the fireworks were made.

MAN IS MISSING; PARENT IS ANXIOUS

William Sturgeon of Golden Gate has notified the police that his son, Arthur, aged 30 years, has been missing from home since the 8th of the present month. On that day Arthur announced that he was going to Stockton, but, according to the elder Sturgeon, Arthur did not reach the windmill city. As he took no extra clothing and had only a small sum of money the father fears that his son is in distress.

The missing man is 5 feet 8 inches in height, weighs 150 pounds, has dark brown hair, blue eyes and is smooth of face. He dresses in dark clothes.

Ministers Attempting to Pull Down Peace Officers to Prevent Prosecution.

The peace officers of Alameda county are disturbed because of the fact that ministers of the gospel in Oakland are working hard against each other, some to secure freedom for the young robbers, and others to convict them.

Rev. E. R. Dille, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has been working hard in the interest of young Crowhurst. The pastor knows his family very well and is anxious to see the boy secure his freedom.

Dr. Dille is leaving no stone unturned in his endeavor to have the youth put on probation. Young Crowhurst has confessed the City of Oakland, one of which was committed in Lafayette Square, in the heart of the city.

Rev. Dr. H. B. Mowbray is another minister who has interested himself in the case of the young highwaymen.

He wants to have Percy Pembroke put on probation, that is to say, he wants the boy who assisted in the killing of young Cook to go free without trial. Pembroke was one of the trio who stood beside George Blaker, when he delivered the death blow in order that he might rob Cook.

Now comes the Rev. Robert Whitaker of Twenty-third Avenue Baptist Church, who has formed a Vigilance Committee, demanding that the boys be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Dr. Whitaker wants every good citizen to wear a star in his district.

"Every man his own police protection," is his cry.

Sheriff Barnett was seen in regard to the flagrant attempt to square these cases. He stated that he could not listen to the appeals of the various ministers of the city in regard to the matter, but that they must make their applications to the Superior Court. As far as he is concerned, Mr. Barnett states that he shall simply do his duty as the Sheriff of Alameda County.

OLDER ON THE STAND AT SACRAMENTO.

Tells of His Talk With McNab and Hines and Plan to Pay Marked Money.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—The third week of the trial of Former Senator E. J. Emmons, charged with bribery while a member of the last session of the Legislature, opened today, but the morning proceedings were without particular interest. The members of the jury showed the effect of the fortnight's confinement and close surveillance. Many of them appeared to be extremely nervous.

READY TO CLOSE.

A welcome statement came from District Attorney A. M. Seymour when in response to a question by Grove L. Johnson, leading counsel for Emmons, he said the prosecution would close its side of the case at the five o'clock adjournment tonight.

Johnson was asked by the representative of the Associated Press how much time the defense would require and he replied evasively that circumstances would govern.

Two men of prominence were examined this morning as witnesses for the prosecution, but their testimony offered nothing new or in any way out of the beaten path.

State Senator Richard J. Welch and Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, were the witnesses this morning, the latter being called first by Seymour.

OLDER TESTIFIED.

Older in the course of qualifying testified that he has been managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin eleven years. He said he knew Moses Hines, but at the time Hines presented himself he did not know his name, learning that later. Hines came to him at his office and handed him $1,550, which he (Older) later converted into bills, divided into five packages containing marked bills. Older identified the envelopes in which the bills were enclosed. Older said B. A.

Crothers, manager of the Bulletin, marked the bills before putting them in the envelopes.

THE DEAL.

Older told of a subsequent visit by Hines in which the latter gave him $100 additional. Older said Hines' visits to him were by prearrangement. Seymour asked what this prearrangement was, and against the objection of Johnson, Older was allowed to say that he had previously seen Gavin McNab, a director of the Continental and Phoenix Building and Loan Association at which it was arranged that Hines should go to the witness.

ABOUT McNAB.

District Attorney Seymour asked what was said in the conversation with McNab. Johnson, who objected on the ground that the question was designed to give the witness a chance to make a speech, "just as McNab did last week," Johnson also contended that unless the prosecution wanted to show "that McNab was only a feigned accomplice," testimony of this character was inadmissible. He added that if the prosecution wanted to show that McNab was an actual accomplice he would welcome such a showing.

Judge Hart overruled the objection.

SENATORS WANTED MONEY.

Older then said it had been represented that there were four Senators who wanted some money and after a talk with McNab it was decided to entrap them. His purpose in having the bills marked was in case of the money was found on any of the Senators the bobbie money could be easily traced. Older further stated that he was developing a newspaper story and he wanted to be very careful to make no mistakes.

The file of the Bulletin for January last was then introduced and identified by Older. Johnson objected, saying that if a man has to plead guilty to all the newspapers have to charge against him, he is in a very bad way. Judge Hart overruled the objection and Older identified an issue of his paper of January 20th, containing an account of the entrapment of the legislators.

Seymour concluded the direct examination here, and Johnson blandly asked the witness.

FIFTY-FIVE HORSES BURNED TO DEATH

WILMINGTON Del., Sept. 25.—Fire today completely destroyed McDaniel Brothers livery stables in West Eleventh Street. Fifty-five horses were burned to death. Loss exceeds $50,000.

CLEAN UP IN NEW ORLEANS. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25.—With September nearly gone and the fever under control, New Orleans is looking to a rapid clean up of the prevailing fever here. A spell of excellent weather has set in and as the days grow cooler there will be a steady disappearance of mosquitoes. It is hoped even before frost comes. There is a steady in-pour of people.

NORWEGIANS AND SWEDES SUPERVISOR MITCHELL COME TO TERMS. TELLS OF TRIP

They Have Agreed on the Details of Conducting the Two Governments. Over a Million People Have Inspected Our Exhibit at Portland.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 25.—The Associated Press succeeded in securing the text of the protocol signed at Karstad Saturday by the Norwegian-Swedish delegates appointed to arrange the terms for the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden, subject to the ratification of the Riksdag and Storting.

The historic document, which will become a treaty when ratified by the two parliaments, consists of five main articles and two sub-clauses.

The first article deals with the arbitrations; the second with the neutral zone and the demolition of the fortifications; the third with reindeer pastures, etc.; the fourth with inter-traffic, and fifth with common waterways.

The agreement provides for the compulsory arbitration before the Hague court of all disputes except matters of vital interest for a period of ten years, with extensions for other periods of ten years unless two years previous notice is given of an intention to arbitrate it.

The treaty provides for a zone on either side of the frontier which shall forever be neutral and for the demolition of the fortresses within that zone with the exception of the old portions of the fortifications of Frederiksten, Gleden, and Overberg which may remain but which are not to be used as fortifications.

A headquarters staff and garrison may be maintained at Frederiksten to the extent as prior to the creation of the new fortifications. No extensions of the Kongsvinger group of fortifications will be permitted, nor of the new forts erected within ten kilometers of the old forts of Kongsvinger.

THE ARTICLES.

Article 1 relating to arbitration is subdivided into eight clauses as follows:

(a)—The two countries undertake to submit all matters of dispute to The Hague arbitration court which do not affect the independence, integrity, or vital interests of either.

(b)—In the event of a difference of opinion between the two countries as to whether a given question touches the vital interests of one of them the matter shall be submitted to the arbitration tribunal for discussion.

(c)—Disputes in regard to interpretation of the methods of carrying out the agreement to be derived at in connection with the dissolution, shall not, however, be submitted to the Hague court.

(d, e, f, and g)—provide for the constitution of the court in accordance with the rules of The Hague Convention, the exchanges of documents and who are qualified to act as arbitrators.

(h)—This agreement shall remain in force a decade, from its beginning. It may be extended for a similar period if it is not denounced by either party for a period of two years before the expiration of the term of ten years.

Article 2, dealing with the neutral zone, is subdivided into nine clauses.

(a)—In order to insure peace between the two countries a zone is to be provided on each side of the frontier which shall forever be neutral and must not be used by either country for war operations, nor can there be stationed, or gathered within the zone armed military forces except as provided in clause (f) and such as are necessary to maintain order or cope with accidents. If either country constructs railroads through the zone troops may be transported and people living within the zone may be collected there for military duty, but must be immediately transported away.

FORTIFICATIONS.

Therefore the fortifications now existing within the above neutral zone shall be demolished as such. The old fortifications at Frederiksten, Gleden and Overberg, may remain, but not as fortifications. Concerning the modern arrangements of the last three and the demolition of the old ones, the two countries shall be taken in connection with the other fortifications more explicit agreements are related in a separate treaty of equal force with this.

GAMBLING HOUSES FORCED TO CLOSE

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 25.—Judge Frank T. Johnson of the District Court issued an order today requiring Sheriff Alexander Nisbet and Chief of Police Michael A. Delaney to enforce the laws against gambling in the city and county of Denver. All gambling houses were closed today by the proprietors, making it unnecessary for the Sheriff or Chief of Police to take any action.

CHOLERA DEATH LIST STILL ON INCREASE

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—The official bulletin issued today announced that two new cases of cholera and two deaths have occurred from noon Sunday to noon today, making the totals 248 cases and 85 deaths. The fresh cases are at Dirschau and Weitz.

SPAIN WANTS EXTENSION.

MADRID, Sept. 25.—General Bernal, commander of the Spanish garrison at Ceuta, Morocco, has conferred with the ministers here concerning neutral zone separating Ceuta and Morocco proper. It is the intention of Spain to ask for an extension of the zone.

King Arthur had just come in from a night with the boys.

"What time is it," asked the queen "Gladzooks!" answered the king. The dial stopped when the sun went down.

And he congratulated himself that he lived in the olden time.—New York Sun.

Chairman Mitchell of the Board of Supervisors this morning filed with the Board the following report of his visit to the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland:

Gentlemen of the Board—Some four weeks ago you appointed a committee of this Board consisting of Mr. Talcott and myself to attend the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland, Oregon, to investigate and report back to this Board the conditions of the exhibit and how the same was being conducted by the Commissioners of this county.

"Mr. Talcott found it impossible to attend the Exposition, much to my regret, as I should have liked to have had his opinion in the matter.

MILLION PEOPLE.

"Over one million people have inspected the Alameda County exhibit and the impression made upon their minds has been that Alameda County's exhibit has no superior in the California Building and that building is the center of attraction at the Exposition.

"One noticeable fact is that nearly one-half of the people who have carefully inspected the Alameda County exhibit have been from the East and the Middle West. Their investigation of the Pacific Coast products has shown a desire on their part to become citizens of some section of the Coast.

"The St. Louis Fair opened the eyes of the Eastern people to the fact that the climate and soil west of the Rockies offered the human family more than any other part of our great domain. So when the Lewis and Clark Exposition of the Coast exhibited on their merits, more than half a million people determined to see what has been accomplished specifically in agriculture, horticulture, viticulture and manufactures on this Coast, and by it, to some extent, measure our future relations with the five hundred millions in the Orient as well as with the East of our nation.

FUTURE GROWTH.

"The Eastern as well as the European capitalists have the future growth of the Coast far better than our own people and have placed a much better estimate on our future than we have done. Climatic conditions alone they say will give the Coast ten million people in fifty years, but the far-sighted ones include soil and Oriental commerce above both of these conditions as a factor in making our West the new East of the future in the world's evolution.

WHAT ENGLISHMAN SAID.

"One English gentleman who has recently returned from the Orient said to Col. Crane, 'Do you know that your Pacific Coast is fast becoming the pivot point in the evolution of the world commercially and otherwise? Our best Europeans have realized this for many years and your California with its 'Golden West' as you call it, will be the center of export and import and also the largest aggregation of people will be on the main land where your three cities are now situated in ignorance of what their future will be.

"We are charmed with the exhibit you have made here, there is nothing like it in any other part of the world. Do you know that your southern city in its Chamber of Commerce (meaning Los Angeles) has a show of fruit that is marvelous. It charmed me, and I see that your Alameda County exhibit has all that they have and you tell me that you do not conduct water on to the soil or irrigate as you call it, as they have to do in the southern part of the State."

PERMANENT DISPLAY.

"Upon my word I should think you people would have a permanent display of fruits in your beautiful city, your literature is good and well enough, but you should understand that you could do far more by showing your products to strangers who are visiting you. So much for an Englishman who has made a tour of the world seeking investments.

"And I would say right here that I believe that the board of supervisors of this county in conjunction with our board of trade and merchants exchange could do no better work than to establish a permanent exhibit of the products of our county. With the exhibit now in the hands of the commissioners and which is the property of Alameda county, we can establish a permanent exhibit which will in a short time rival anything on the coast.

"The unity of feeling which exists between the county representatives in the California building shows a concert of action so free from jealousy that it marks a new era of progress worthy of our commendation.

"There was but one place for the county representatives to entertain their friends and it was unfurnished so the different counties clubbed together and furnished the room under the great pyramid of fruits and organized a counties' association, assuming jointly the expense of entertaining, this move has worked out great results for all and closed the season.

"Have you noticed how the days are shortening?" asked the doctor.

"Shortening?" said the professor, looking at his watch. "Not at all, it's lengthening."

It is any wonder, think you, that the doctor became accurate?

to all possible jealousy and raised the standard of California in the minds of a million visitors.

"The lectures given at the California building have been most instructive and the management of the Alameda county exhibit have made no mistake in selecting Mrs. Crane to present to visitors Alameda county's interests. I consider the lecture one of the best if not the best given at the fair.

SPECIAL COMMEDATION.

"The work of our commissioners calls for special commendation. The placing of the Alameda county exhibit has no superior in the building. Our county has more room given one exhibit than any other county in the state. Contra Costa county has shared equally in the benefits of the Bay counties' exhibits, the two counties having one-sixth of the entire space allotted to the fruits in jars, and space otherwise. The absence of fresh fruits from our county caused some unfavorable comment but our people did not seem to appreciate the importance of the occasion.

"California day at the fair was one to be remembered by the people on the grounds. Over 25,000 were entertained in the building in one way and another—2000 booklets on our county were distributed, carloads of California fruits and barrels of wine were disbursed and thousands of California badges were placed upon the breasts of visitors, those of Alameda county being equally conspicuous.

OUR SIDE OF BAY.

"The men of brains are beginning to understand that our side of the bay will in the near future become the largest city on the coast, and that all the natural advantages belong to Alameda county, Oakland being the terminal point of all the trans-continental railroads, where cars and steamships connect with two great valleys to pour their products into her water-front storehouses for temporary or permanent lodgement and unsurpassed factory facilities, makes Oakland the center point for the great city of the coast.

"We have distributed some 20,000 badges and buttons, 12,000 booklets, and sent to Alameda county more than 1000 people who would not have gone but for this fair, and we have made half a million people acquainted with the county, many of whom never heard of Oakland or the county. It is a strange fact that thousands knew nothing of California north of the Tehachapi. Southern California has done all the advertising until within a few years.

"In conclusion I believe the thanks of this board as well as of the people of this county is due to the Alameda county commissioners, Messrs. Gier, Walker and Welby, for their conscientious, efficient and thorough efforts in behalf of Alameda county."

PHYSICIANS ARE IN SESSION

WIDE RANGE OF SUBJECTS COME UP FOR DISCUSSION.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—Physicians, surgeons and bacteriologists from all parts of the United States and from Canada and Mexico have come to this city to attend the thirty-third annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, which opened today and will continue until Friday night.

A wide range of subjects for discussion touching the preservation of public health has been prepared. Section meetings were held today at the Medical Library in the Fenway.

The convention proper will hold its opening sessions tomorrow and all its general meetings will take place in the Y. M. C. A. building. A public reception will be tendered the delegates on Tuesday. On Wednesday and Thursday there will be excursions to points of interest in addition to the business session. Friday will be devoted to reading and discussion of papers.

The president of the association, who will preside at the meetings, is Dr. F. F. Westbrook of Minneapolis, Minn.

ing at 943 Grace avenue, he had little thought of witnessing a battery. But just as Mr. Lee entered the Copen-ing house his ears were filled with the sounds of a scuffle in a rear room.

Lee entered and found Henry Crittenden posing in pugilistic fashion before Mrs. Copen. She ordered Crittenden out of the house and Lee says that she was knocked down by Crittenden, who also broke down a door.

Crittenden made a long speech in Police Judge Smith's court this morning in justification of his actions. He claimed to have been the victim of jealousy.

"Is that all you have to say?" remarked the Judge.

"Yes."

When Leon Lee went with a message yesterday to the home of Mrs. Copen-

ing house his ears were filled with the sounds of a scuffle in a rear room.

Lee entered and found Henry Crittenden posing in pugilistic fashion before Mrs. Copen. She ordered Crittenden out of the house and Lee says that she was knocked down by Crittenden, who also broke down a door.

Crittenden made a long speech in Police Judge Smith's court this morning in justification of his actions. He claimed to have been the victim of jealousy.

"Is that all you have to say?" remarked the Judge.

"Yes."

SUPERVISORS WILL HAVE BOOKS MADE BUTTE TO REBUILD AT ONCE

Pass a Resolution Regarding Dalton's Books--Suit Ordered Against Assessor.

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of this county be and it is hereby authorized and directed to procure, through its Printing Committee, the necessary books, blanks, maps and plat books required by the Assessor of this County for the fiscal year of 1905-6.

The following resolution to take the patronage of ordering supplies for his office from County Assessor Henry P. Dalton was presented by Supervisor H. D. Rowe at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning. It was unanimously adopted without comment. It is estimated that the supplies will amount to about $1500.

AGAINST ASSESSOR

The Board also adopted the following resolution directing the District Attorney to bring suit against Assessor Dalton.

Whereas Henry P. Dalton County Assessor of the County of Alameda has collected from the City of Oakland for the sum of $2400 for a complete certified copy of the assessment book of said Alameda County for the said year 1905 so far as such assessment book pertained to the property within the limits of the said City of Oakland furnished to said city by said Assessor Henry P. Dalton at said city's written request and

Whereas the actual cost incurred by said Assessor Henry P. Dalton in preparing and certifying such assessment book for said City of Oakland was the sum of $700 and

Whereas the difference between the actual cost and said sum of $700 collected from the said City of Oakland by the said Assessor as aforesaid was the sum of $1700 and

Whereas said difference has not been paid to the said County of Alameda by the said Assessor Henry P. Dalton and

Whereas there is now due to said County of Alameda by the said County Assessor of said County said Henry P. Dalton the sum of $2100 now therefore

Be it resolved that the District Attorney of the County of Alameda be and he is hereby ordered to institute suit against said Assessor Henry P. Dalton and his bondsmen and sureties on his bond as such Assessor Henry P. Dalton A. Cox Edward Cavanaugh and Albert Brown to recover from them the said sum of $2100.

Another resolution to recover $2116 for 1904 was also adopted.

TO RAISE GRADE

Supervisor Talcott called attention to the fact that the Oakland Transit Company was changing its tracks from the city limits to High street and he stated that the grade should be raised at least four inches. Upon this motion the County Attorney was directed to confer with the engineer of the company regarding the matter.

REFUSES AID

The Board decided not to give further aid to Mrs. Sadie C. Casper of 313 Fifth street an indigent who has caused considerable trouble. Recently her case was referred to the Associated Charities and Vice-Wardens of that institution reported that the woman was able to work.

Mrs. Casper says she is ill but she has refused to go to the County Infirmary.

COMPLIMENTS BOARD

Chairman Mitchell referring to the tax levy complimented the Board on passing the resolution establishing the rate. He said that had he been present he would have voted for the resolution.

LIQUOR LICENSES

The following applications for liquor licenses were received and the hearings set for October 16: A. D. M. Fremville, Prescott and Redwood avenues, Fruitvale; M. R. Silveira, Warm Springs; J. Kubler, Mount Eden.

CORONERS REPORT

Coroner Mehrmann reported that he had held thirty inquests during August. The report was filed.

WORK COMPLETED

County Surveyor Prather reported that the D. B. and A. L. Stone Supply Company had completed the concrete bridge across Dry Creek near Decatur.

TO PREPARE PLANS

The County Surveyor was directed to prepare plans and specifications for a concrete bridge across Dry Creek near Decatur.

Sheriff Barnett reported that thirteen prisoners were serving time during August and forty prisoners were in the County Jail awaiting trial. The total cost of keeping these prisoners was $221.

FOOTHILL ROAD

County Surveyor Prather reported as follows on the work of the Ransome Construction Company on the foothill road: Amount due for second monthly payment $1,689.06. Amount of work performed on contract $51,224.60, total amount paid $38,118.45.

TO PURCHASE COWS

The Hospital committee was directed to sell all old milk cows at the County Infirmary and to purchase young cows to take their place.

The bid of the Wishart Drug Company to furnish drugs to the county institutions was rejected and the clerk was directed to return the certified check to its owner. The bid was rejected because only one had been offered.

Many Persons Are Thrown Out of Employment by Fire.

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 25.—A careful estimate of the loss of yesterday's fire places it at $600,000, with insurance at $625,000.

The Symonds Drygoods Company is the heaviest loser with a loss of $800,000 fully insured.

The blocks burned. It is announced by property owners, without exception, are to be rebuilt at once.

The total loss at the public library is fixed at between $55,000 and $60,000. More than half of the books will be rescued from the debris intact and the walls are untouched.

Michael Sullivan who is in the city jail charged with an attempt to cut hose in front of the library while the fire in that edifice was being fought is being closely guarded.

Sullivan came here shortly after the Cripple Creek troubles in Colorado, where he is said to have been active in labor troubles.

About 600 persons were thrown out of employment by the fire but most of these will be re-employed within a few weeks.

KAHN TO STUMP IN OHIO

CONGRESSMAN WILL NOT PARTICIPATE IN THE SAN FRANCISCO CAMPAIGN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Congressman Kahn will not take any part in the municipal contest in San Francisco this year. On the contrary he will probably be absent from the city when the city election is held and will not cast his vote for either Partridge or Schmitz.

Mr. Kahn has received a personal letter from Senator Dick urging him to come to Ohio and canvass the State for the Republican ticket this fall. Senator Dick is deeply interested in the success of the Republican legislative ticket this year and has a high appreciation of Mr. Kahn's ability as a campaigner.

For his part Mr. Kahn is not sorry that he has valid excuse for absents himself from San Francisco while the present campaign is in progress. He says he is disgusted with local politics and will not hereafter participate in local struggles having no appreciable relation to national policies. He expects to go to the Portland exposition in a few days and from there will go East to plunge into the Buckeye campaign.

AMERICAN STREET RAILWAY ASSOCIATION

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—Street cars their manufacture and operation and methods for improved suburban transit will occupy the attention of the American Street Railway Association during the remainder of the week. The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the association began today in the Commercial Museum Building. President W. Carls Ely of Buffalo called the convention to order and the members were welcomed by Mayor Weaver.

In addition to the convention of the street railway association there will be meetings of the American Railway Manufacturers' Association, the Street Railway Accountants Association and the American Association of Street Railway Agents.

ALFRED AUSTIN ON HIS CRITICS.

The manager of a press clipping bureau in New York said the other day: "Not long ago I thought I would try to enlarge our business. Accordingly I sent prospectuses to well-known people all over the world. In these prospectuses I said that our bureau read practically every publication that was issued and that a man by subscribing to us, could read every word about himself that ever appeared in print."

"Well, we got a good many acceptances and a good many rejections. One of the latter came from the British poet laureate Alfred Austin. He said loftily:

KANSAS CITY STATE BANK CLOSES ITS DOORS

Goes Into Voluntary Liquidation—Checks Against It are Duly Honored.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—The Kansas City State Bank, Wiley E. Cox, president, failed to open its doors today, having gone into voluntary liquidation. The bank has loaned $168,000 to the bank of Salmon & Salmon at Clinton, Mo., which failed last July, catching depositors for several thousand dollars.

The Kansas City State Bank was organized in 1888 and had a capital of $200,000. The last statement showed loans of $4,000,000, deposits $4,750,000, surplus $14,000.

The following notice was posted on the door at the opening hour today:

"This bank has gone into voluntary liquidation through the Fidelity Trust Company. Checks drawn against the bank will be paid on presentation by the Fidelity Trust Co., at Ninth and Walnut streets.

(Signed) WILEY O. COX, President

The Fidelity Trust Company, which is capitalized at $1,000,000, is considered one of the strongest banking institutions in the Southwest. The Kansas City State Bank holds $567,000 of the city's money.

Wiley O. Cox, president of the Kansas City State Bank, is one of the oldest and best known men in Missouri. In 1872 he was a clerk in the First National Bank at Springfield, Mo., coming to Kansas City in 1881. From 1884 to 1888 he was engaged in a general financial and loan brokerage business. He organized the Kansas City State Bank in 1888 and has always been its president. In 1896 he bought the Kansas City Times a venture that did not prove successful, and in 1899 he sold the paper.

CHECKS HONORED

At the Fidelity Trust company's bank checks on the Kansas City State Bank were honored as fast as presented. There was no show of commotion and Charles Campbell vice president of the Fidelity Trust company stated that all checks drawn on the closed bank would be paid upon demand.

Wiley O. Cox president of the Kansas City State Bank made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"The retirement of the Kansas City State Bank from active business is voluntary. Our business has not been growing for some time and we found it hard to hold our own with the larger institutions. In fact it looks as if the banking business as well as all other lines, is concentrating into the large ones."

"Entirely satisfactory arrangements have been made whereby the Fidelity Trust company one of our strongest banking houses has taken over the business of the bank and is paying our depositors in the ordinary way on demand."

On retiring from the banking business for the present after an active career of many years I cannot help feeling extremely proud that no depositor has ever failed to have his checks honored and paid on presentation at any bank with which I have been connected."

The Fidelity Trust company volunteered to pay the city treasurer the amount of the city's funds on deposit in the Kansas City State Bank but the money was not withdrawn.

AGAIN OPEN.

The Press Saloon Changes Hands and is Reopened

A. S. Olney, who is well known as the popular landlord of the Rose Hotel of Pleasanton having sold the hotel and moved to Oakland has purchased the Press Saloon and cafe at 165 Ninth street Oakland. The Press is one of the best furnished places in Oakland and under Mr. Olney's management should become very popular.

TELEPHONE FRANCHISE IN THE COUNTY COUNCILMEN ARE IN CUSTODY WANT OPINION OF UNITED STATES

New Application Filed This Morning With the Board of Supervisors.

Considerable speculation is being indulged in regarding the filing of an application for a telephone franchise with the Board of Supervisors this morning.

The application was for a franchise outside the incorporated cities and towns and was filed by Attorney Shaw, who represents H. H. Mayberry of Los Angeles.

The preamble reads:

"The undersigned, H. H. Mayberry, hereby makes application for and asks you to grant him, his successors in interest and assigns, a franchise to construct, maintain and operate a telephone system in the County of Alameda, upon, over, under and along the public streets and highways within said county, and outside the corporate limits of all incorporated towns and cities therein, and to that end to construct, maintain and operate poles, wires, cables, underground conduits, house connections and other necessary appliances and conductors for the purpose of transmitting sounds, signals, conversation and intelligence by means of electricity and otherwise."

The terms are as follows:

First—That the term of said franchise shall be for the term of fifty years.

Second—That the telephone system, etc., shall be maintained and operated in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the State and the ordinances of the county.

Third—That the grantee of the franchise shall begin in good faith the work of constructing the system within four months and shall complete the work within three months of its commencement.

Fourth—That the grantee of the franchise shall pay to the County of Alameda two per cent of the gross receipts of such grantee, provided, however, that no percentage shall be paid for the first five years, but thereafter such percentage shall be paid annually, and said franchise shall be forfeited by failure to make the payment herein provided.

Fifth—That the grantee of said franchise shall within five days after such franchise is awarded, file with the Board of Supervisors a bond in the sum of $1,000, to insure the grantee's good faith.

In speaking of the application, Attorney Shaw said:

"All I know of the matter is that Mr. Mayberry is a man of wealth from Los Angeles. Whether he is connected with any telephone company I do not know and I do not know whether he intends applying for franchises within the city limits. I was directed simply to apply for a franchise outside incorporated cities and towns."

W. J. Schmidt, the Berkeley contractor, is interested in the new franchise and was present at the meeting of the Board.

The application was referred to the committee on franchises.

SENTENCED TO SERVE THIRTY DAYS IN PRISON FOR CONTEMPT.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 25.—Five City Councilmen, Dyball, Bach, Evans, Huntington and Schroeder, were today sentenced to thirty days in jail and to pay the costs of an injunction suit for violating the provisions of which they were sentenced.

These five members of the Council were adjured by Judge Sullivan from passing an ordinance relating to an agreement with the Omaha Gas Company for an extension of the gas franchise.

They were served with the injunction of the court, but passed the ordinance the following day. They were cited for contempt and were given the sentence mentioned.

They were placed in the custody of the Sheriff, to be held until 5 o'clock, at which time their counsel, who asked the Supreme Court for a stay of execution, shall have a decision from the higher body.

A UNIQUE TOMBSTONE.

A stone carving of a grizzly bear in the attitude of defending her cubs has been carved by Andrew Chester Thompson, of Seattle and will be immediately shipped to Alaska to be placed over the grave of R. Shadesty one of the most prominent Indians in the North when alive. He died December 17, 1904, leaving $600 to defray the cost of the monument.

The big piece of stone carving weighing 3000 pounds will be shipped from Seattle to Wrangell and from that point will be carried about 180 miles overland to the home of the Bear family of Indians. The Indians themselves will transport the grizzly on its overland journey according to their own primitive methods of transportation.

Mr. Thompson has been carving images for Alaska Indians for the past twenty-five years, but this is the largest monument he has shipped to Alaska carved from a single piece of marble.

The stone carving provided for Shadesty is the first to be ordered in a defensive attitude. For the Black Bear tribe Mr. Thompson has carved several statues of bears, but they have all been on all fours. The Wolf tribe and others have ordered carvings but the work done for Shadesty is a novel in its conception.

It is customary among the Alaska Indians to leave money to pay for their own tombstones and Shadesty saved for a lifetime to give himself a suitable piece for his grave. He was wealthy enough, though, to leave his kinsmen considerable money.—Seattle Times.

OFFICIALS TO CONFER ABOUT THE VENEZUELA SITUATION

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The officials here believe that developments in the Venezuela situation await the arrival of Judge W. J. Calhoun, U. S. Special Commissioner, and Ambassador Jusseran at Washington.

The foreign office here has been advised that Judge Calhoun and M. Taigny have gone over the case of the French Cable Company and the officials here are not disposed to proceed against Venezuela or any southern republic until after the fullest conference with the United States, owing to the privileged position of the United States towards South and Central America.

At the same time it is held that this privileged position entails the co-operation of the United States toward requiring Venezuela to observe the usual obligations of other powers.

AN INCIDENT ON THE ROAD. An automobilist who was touring through the country saw walking ahead of him, a man followed by a dog. As the machine drew near them the dog started suddenly to cross the road. He was hit by the car and killed immediately. The motorist stopped his machine and approached the owner.

"I'm very sorry, my man, that this has happened," he said. "Will five dollars fix it?"

"Oh, yes," said the man, "five dollars will fix it. I guess."

Pocketing the money as the car disappeared in the distance, he looked down at the dead animal.

"I wonder whose dog it was?" he said.—Harper's Weekly.

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY--4:30 P. M.

ARTHUR LEE TELLS OF MARKED MONEY.

Declares That He Was Told by Emmons to Hold the Tell-Tale Bills.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—In the Emmons case this afternoon several witnesses were called.

James L. Flannagan, night clerk of an uptown hotel, was called upon to identify Emmons' signature on the hotel register, but failed to do so. He said the registry of Emmons' name might have been made by E. A. Puschell, who lodged at the hotel for some time.

Arthur E. Lee, the colored man who served as a cloak room clerk of the Senate, and the man it is alleged former Senators Emmons, Bunkers, and Wright agreed with Jordan that he, Lee, should be the man to take the marked bills given the alleged hoodlums to a place of safekeeping, was the next witness.

Lee said the money was given him in custody one night and the next morning he met Emmons in the latter's room and Emmons told him to take the money "to a certain place."

THE MARKED MONEY.

Lee said Emmons had told him to take the money he had given him the day before, together with that given by Dr. W. P. Matthews, to the capitol. All the money was done up in greenbacks, or bills, in packages. Lee then told of the amount of money in the several packages entrusted to him, saying he had investigated each package in the basement of the capitol after he examined the San Francisco Bulletin of Jan. 30, in which the name of each bill was given.

Lee then identified the portion of the Bulletin containing the legislative expose.

Johnson objected strenuously to the witness showing that he compared the bills in his possession with the numbers of those exploited in the Bulletin and had found that they corresponded.

After considerable argument, the Seymour admitted that it would be a hard matter to prove that every one of the marked bills in the keeping of Lee corresponded exactly with those exploited in the Bulletin.

Johnson then read from the newspaper account of the legislative expose in which the markings of the bills, their numbers and denominations were set forth.

KEEP THE BILLS.

Lee said that after he had made the comparison of the bills he saw Emmons on the morning of January 21st. Emmons merely told him to keep the bills, but at that time said nothing more. The following day the witness said he met Emmons as usual in the Senate. Lee explained that he had French and Bunkers' money, which he had converted into gold.

Emmons told him to "take the money down to Billy Hanlon," but an objection as to what was done with the money was sustained.

After a few minor questions by Seymour, Lee was turned over to Johnson for cross examination. Johnson led Lee from one employment to another, eliciting the statement that the witness came to California in 1895.

SMALL BOY TELLS ANOTHER STORY ABOUT ROBBERY

Instead of Being Daring Bandits They Say They Only Asked For Cigarettes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—William Shandley is only 15 years of age, and his chum, Joseph Doyle, is just two years his senior, yet the pair are booked at the City Prison on charges of highway robbery.

Louis Silverman of 362 Third street, the complaining witness, declares that the boys approached him in Columbia Square in broad daylight yesterday afternoon, drew revolvers and threatened to kill him if he did not hand over his pocket book.

Silverman carried no pocketbook and had no coin about him, but the youthful bandits would not take his word for it. They forced him to hold his hands high in the air, and while one of the youthful bandits kept him covered with a pistol, the other searched his pockets. The searcher found nothing but a sack of tobacco and some cigarette papers, but this they appropriated and then bid their victim good day.

The daring robbery was reported to the police at the Southern Station, and before dark both Shandley and Doyle were incustody. They had no weapons upon them when arrested and denied vigorously that they had committed a crime but Silverman was positive in his identification, and this morning the youthful pair were arraigned before Police Judge Conlan. The magistrate was inclined to believe that it was only an attempt at robbery, and the cases were continued, that the complaint might be changed.

"That man Silverman is telling an awful lie," said the Shandley boy when interviewed at the City Prison this morning. "We did not attempt to rob him at all. It is true we met him, but we only asked him for a cigarette. He handed us the tobacco and papers, and then when he became abusive we refused to give it back to him. That is all there is to it."

"We had no revolvers at all and we did not search Silverman. The police would not believe our story and they took us in, but I am not a bad boy. I work every day for the Schilling Company and Doyle was in the employ of the John Breunier Furniture Company until he was taken sick and had to quit."

WOMEN TO HOLD MEETING.

SUFFRAGISTS WILL SOON ASSEMBLE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Editor Tribune—Will you please print the following notice:

C. A. WHELAN.

Call for the annual convention of the California Equal Suffrage association. The annual convention of the California Equal Suffrage association will be held in San Francisco in Wheeler's auditorium, formerly Century hall, 2115 Sutter street, October 29 and 31, 1906. A full representation from all parts of the state is earnestly desired.

Although the last legislature of California refused to submit an amendment of the constitution to the voters granting full suffrage to the women of the state, the women of California know no such thing, and are resolved to carry on with vigor the agitation for political equality. We demand equal privileges for all citizens without regard to sex.

Henry Blackwell, that earnest worker for all that is uplifting to humanity, says: "We shall never have good government until it is made by men and women—a constituency too numerous to be bribed, and too independent to be coerced." A cordial invitation is extended to all women who believe in the principle of "Equal Justice to All" to meet with us in convention to review the work of the past and plan for the future.

EPPINGER CASE GOES OVER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Eppinger case will not be called again in Judge Lawlor's department of the Superior Court until November 13. The case of Jacob Eppinger, the founder of the firm charged with swindling local banks out of nearly $750,000, was called again this morning, but Judge Dibble, who is associated with ex-Governor Budd in the defense of the accused man, stated that his associate was a very sick man, and would not be able to appear for many weeks. He asked for a reasonable continuance, and there was no opposition on the part of the prosecution. November 13 was acceptable to both sides, and Judge Lawlor directed that the trial be set down for that time.

PACKERS FIX THE RATES

That is the Story Told by a Railroad President.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—"The packers fix the rates," declared A. B. Stickney, president of the Chicago Great Western Railway, testifying for the defense in the Interstate Commerce Commission today regarding the rates on live stock and live stock products from the Missouri river to Chicago. In answer to a question as to how the charges were made, President Stickney replied:

"In fixing the rate on dressed meat we don't have very much to say. The packer generally makes the rate. He comes to you and always makes you feel that he is your friend. Then he asks you how much you charge for certain shipments of dressed meats. The published tariff makes 23 cents per hundred, but he will not pay that. You said to him:

"Oh, no, you won't. I won't pay that." Then you say:

"Well, what will you pay for it?" He then replies:

"I can get it hauled for 16 cents." "So you haul it for 16 cents per hundred. He generally tells you that if you want the business you must haul the meat for the price he names."

President Stickney denied that his road had paid any claims for damages or rebates since the Grosscup injunction.

STRIKE ON A NEWSPAPER.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 25.—A general strike in the composing and proofing department of the Post-Express newspaper, was declared today, and most of the men responded to the call. The strike on the part of the composing room men is sympathetic, inasmuch as their demand for an eight hour day and increase in wages was granted on Saturday. New men were at once obtained and no difficulty has been experienced in getting out the regular editions.

TEDDY JR. GOES TO COLLEGE.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Roosevelt left Sagamore Hill today for Cambridge, Mass., to see her son, Theodore, Jr., settled in Harvard college.

OFFICIAL VISIT TO CRUISERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Chief Naval Constructor W. L. Capps today paid an official visit of inspection to the cruisers California and South Dakota and the protected cruiser Milwaukee, now being built at the Union Iron Works in this city.

SUSIE N IS THE WINNER.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—Susie N., driven by Tom Murphy, won the first, third and fourth heats and the race in the three-year-old division of the $3,000 horse review futurity at the Oakley track today. Ben Vonage took the second heat. Best time, 2:11.

Ed Custer won the two-year-old division of the horse review futurity (3 in 3) Vera F. Federal won and Governor Francis third. Best time, 2:16 3-4.

FEE NOT READY TO COME

E. O. McCormick Ordered to Europe for a Rest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—It looks as if the passenger department of the Southern Pacific will not see C. S. Fee for many a long day. Mr. Fee is now acting as J. C. Stubbs' assistant in Chicago, and will perform the duties of E. O. McCormick, who is now on a vacation to Europe.

Mr. McCormick was ordered to take a rest by his physicians, but the general belief is that he is now in Europe on business.

Mr. Fee's stay will depend on the length of Mr. McCormick's trip across the water, and it may be safe to say that he will not be here much before the last of November or later.

W. G. Gardiner is still in the East, and the date of his return is not known.

James Horsburgh, Jr., has returned to his office. During his absence he has been pretty well all over the lines in this State and has also familiarized himself with conditions in Oregon. Mr. Horsburgh was ordered by his physicians to take a long rest to recover from the attack made upon him by a midnight burglar at the Auditorium in Chicago.

TO VISIT OLD SOLDIERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Board of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers arrived this morning at the Palace Hotel, and while on the Coast the members will make an inspection of the home at Yountville, and also of the one at Santa Monica. General M. T. McMahon of New York is the president of the board, and in speaking of his trip said:

"We have been making an inspection of all the soldiers' homes in the country. The first one we visited was at Dayton, Ohio; the next was at Marion, Ind.; then the one at Danville, Ill.; from there we inspected the one at Milwaukee, also Leavenworth, Kan., and then the Sanitarium at Battle Mountain, S. D."

"We intend to go to Yountville tomorrow, and will probably leave for Santa Monica the day after."

The personnel of the board is as follows: General M. T. McMahon, General J. M. Brown, Portland, Me.; General C. M. Anderson, Greenville, Ohio; J. M. Holley, La Crosse, Wis.; Colonel W. P. Brownlow, Johnson City, Tenn.; Senator W. Warner, Kansas City; Major W. E. Elwell, Togus, Me.; Colonel J. P. Smith, Johnson City, Tenn.; and Secretary D. C. Spencer.

HUSBAND ALLEGES WIFE STRUCK HIM

Edward I. Brown has brought divorce proceedings against Cecelia Brown for cruelty, alleging that she has struck him and otherwise treated him in such a way as to cause him much mental anguish. They have one little girl seven years of age of which he also asks the custody.

VIOLATED FISH LAW.

Police Judge Samuels today fined S. Simoni, the fish dealer, $20 or the alternative of ten days in jail, his offense being selling fish under size.

DOCTORS MADE A MISTAKE

Man Was Dying and They Thought He Was Drunk.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Following upon the heels of the scandal in connection with the Ralston suicide, which resulted in the "suspension" of Dr. Stephen, the Central Emergency Hospital, comes the case of John Huber, a machinist, who was picked up in a dying condition on Minna street, near Fifteenth, and whose case was diagnosed by surgeons at the City and County Hospital as "plain drunk."

John Huber is dead. Dr. Boegslup, the autopsy surgeon connected with the Coroner's office, found that his death resulted from a frightful fracture of the skull. But despite this injury, when Huber was removed to the City and County Hospital Dr. Turnbull called it a case of alcoholism and sent him back to the Mission Police Station. A few hours later Huber was still unconscious, and was again sent to the Hospital.

According to Policeman H. N. Powell, Dr. Bigelow was called in consultation on the occasion of the dying man's return, but like Dr. Turnbull, he could find nothing wrong with him, and he also declared that Huber's condition was due to acute alcoholism. But Huber died, and Andrew Johnson, who was with him a short time before, is supposed to have sustained his injury, is detained while police detectives are investigating the case.

John Huber, who is said to be the son of wealthy parents in Switzerland and who was employed as a wood carver in Shrock's furniture factory, lived at the Hotel at 1553 Fifteenth street. Saturday night he was out on a drinking bout with Andrew Johnson, a fellow mechanic, and the men are known to have quarreled in a saloon at 1359 Minna street during Saturday night. It was shortly after this quarrel that Huber was found in front of the saloon in a dying condition, and Johnson was picked up by the police not very far away. He was greatly under the influence of drink, and his face was severely bruised and lacerated.

According to the official reports from the police station, Huber was twice taken to the hospital from the station for treatment, and on each occasion the physicians there said that either there was nothing serious the matter with the dying man, or that he was suffering merely from alcoholism.

On the other hand, Superintendent McGuire of the hospital declares that the man was not taken away from the hospital after having been brought there at 1 o'clock in the morning, and that Dr. Turnbull and Waldgren, who attended Huber, said that they suspected a fracture of the skull.

Despite this, the Mission station reports declare Huber was taken to the hospital on Saturday night, that Dr. Turnbull examined a lump on the back of his head and said that it "did not amount to anything," and thereupon Huber was taken back to the station, and was again removed to the hospital at 1 o'clock, and died there at 6:30 o'clock. Johnson claims to know nothing of how Huber sustained his injuries. He says they were friendly and had no quarrel, but Detective Cody, who is working on the case, declares that he has witnessed the men in angry conversation in the saloon; saw them walk out of the door wrangling, and then witnessed the delivery of a blow that felled Huber to the pavement.

Dent Robert, managing editor of the Examiner has gone East. His engagement to Miss Elizabeth Woodson has just been announced. The wedding will take place at Hotel Majestic, New York, on October 5.

FINAL DISTRIBUTION OF CANNING ESTATE

A final decree of distribution of the estate of the late Mary Canning was made this morning without any showing being made as to the amount of the estate of the deceased given to her nephew, W. J. Yore, in consideration of his dropping any proceedings looking to a contest of the will.

By the will of the deceased she left one-half of her estate to Mary Davitt, Yore's sister and wife of the Irish Patriot Michael Davitt, and the other half to the Roman Catholic Archbishop of San Francisco, making a provision that if any part of this bequest was invalid it should go to George Montgomery, also high in Catholic councils.

According to the final petition it is stated that it was found that the bequest to Archbishop Riordan was more than the statute allows, it being the law of the land that not more than a third of an estate can be left to a religious order, necessitating the distribution of one-sixth of the estate to Montgomery, a third to Archbishop Riordan and one-half to Mrs. Davitt.

Yore, however, was settled with his Mrs. Davitt and Attorney Garrett McEmery, representing Archbishop Riordan, but the amount he got is not disclosed, it being a matter outside any order the court may make in the matter. The amount of the estate left to distribute amounts to between $60,000 and $90,000, she having given away most of it prior to her death.

COUNT PREFERS HIS WIFE TO A TITLE

Weds Washwoman's Daughter, So is Removed From His Royal Position.

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—The hereditary Count Francis Von Erbach-Erbach, the 22-year-old son of the second branch of the ancient house of Erbach in Hesse, has been set aside from the succession, according to the Tageblatt, for having married the daughter of a washwoman of Erbach. The marriage, it is added, took place in London some weeks ago.

Count Francis, having affirmed his intention to remain true to his wife, a council of all the counts of Erbach was called, the names of eight of whom are in the Almanac De Gotha as old enough to participate in the deliberations.

The council decided that under the laws of the house Count Francis had forfeited his right to succeed his father and elected to succeed him Count Everard, who is 13 years of age, and second son of Count Arthur, the eldest living brother of the chief of this branch of the family.

BRYAN WILL BE AT A BANK.

BERKELEY, Sept. 25.—William Jennings Bryan as the guest of honor at a reception in the First National Bank will be the unique spectacle which Berkeley folk and many from the city will witness tonight. Politicians say that a few years ago when the former Presidential candidate was advocating free silver the banks and other great money interests of the land would have deemed it extraordinary that Bryan be a guest of honor at the reception held by a bank. Now it appears to be taken as a matter of course, although on Mr. Bryan's pleasure trip it will occur only in Berkeley.

The parlors and directors' rooms in the First National Bank will be turned over to Mr. Bryan and his friends tonight. The Y. M. C. A., under whose auspices Bryan is to lecture in the Berkeley Theater tonight, will be represented at the reception, as will also the society, business and political leaders of Berkeley. Bryan is expected to make a short and informal address at the reception.

President A. W. Naylor of the First National Bank will entertain Mr. Bryan at dinner this evening. This afternoon the visitor was taken around Berkeley in J. O. Barker's automobile.

OAKLAND PASTOR GUY C. SMITH IS POLITICIANS TOUR MEN AND WOMEN

ACCUSED

DR. J. E. TRANSUE IS CHARGED OF A CRIME BY HIS WIFE.

SEATTLE, Sept. 25.—If the charges made against Dr. J. E. Transue, formerly pastor of the Ethiopian Methodist Church at Oakland, by his wife, now residing at Ballard, a suburb of Seattle, are half true, he will be excommunicated. In a letter to Bishop J. W. Smith of North Carolina, Mrs. Transue alleges that her husband is guilty of bigamy, embezzlement, abandonment, forgery and even more serious crimes.

Prior to three years ago she was happy in her Oakland home. Then Kate Sinclair was engaged for housework. The wife claimed she discovered her husband became over friendly with the woman.

To square himself, Dr. Transue is alleged to have sent his wife and her daughter on a visit to Ballard. When they left, she charges he eloped with the Sinclair woman. She also charges that he took $500 belonging to her daughter when he eloped. To cap all this, she charges he presented the forged letter to an insurance company which carried a $500 policy on her life and attempted to secure the money. Transue is now preaching in Arkansas.

A GENTLEMAN'S REPORT.

Dr. J. E. Transue is a very windy place. A gentleman just from there reports that last week the wind blew a sheep up against a barn, about twenty feet from the ground, and held it there four days, until it starved to death.

"Alice Plittler is such a restful friend!" "Restful? She talks all the time." "That's it. I never have to think what to say when I'm with her."—Tospeka State Journal.

HE WILL CONDUCT THE AFFAIRS AT THE NOVELTY THEATER.

The Novelty Theater has a new manager today in Guy C. Smith, the well-known theatrical man of this city. He recently conducted the affairs of Pain's "Last Days of Pompeii," which was the most successful exhibition that has ever been seen on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Smith has always proven himself to be an astute manager and a business man of sound judgment.

For the past three years he has been the popular and successful manager of the Macdonough Theatre. In selecting Mr. Smith for the position of local manager, Tony Lubelski, the proprietor of the Novelty Theater, showed that he recognized ability, for Mr. Smith, by his affable and courteous manner, has made himself extremely popular with the theater-goers of this and the neighboring cities. He has been approached many times in the past and urged to accept the management of the Novelty, but until now has never been able to do so. It was only after Mr. Lubelski had offered him a handsome salary, that he made arrangements to close up several other enterprises with which he was connected and assume the responsible and arduous duties as manager of the popular theater.

Guy C. Smith's many friends wish him all manner of success in his new position and feel confident that he will make the Novelty even more popular than it is today.

REWARD OF COURTESY.

"How do you get so many subscribers?" asked the visitor to the office of the great magazine. "Just between you and me I'll tell you the secret. All the manuscripts sent in I keep. I answer every contributor, and tell them the stuff will be used as soon as available. That makes them subscribers for life."

OAKLAND RESIDENTS VISIT VARIOUS POINTS OF INTEREST.

A party of West Oakland politicians were the guests yesterday of Charles Mautalen, superintendent of the Union depot ferry houses, on the State tugboat Governor Maricham on an excursion about the bay. All the points of interest were visited, including the dry docks of the Union Iron Works, Point Richmond, Alcatraz and the naval training station at Goat Island. Captain Charles Putnam, superintendent of tugs and ferrets, was in charge and the following committee had charge of the arrangements: Assemblyman J. J. Burke, Police Clerk John Mott and Martin Hanley. Those present were: Hugh McGuinn, Charles Putnam, Edwin Luce, Edward Fallon, Harry Clark, Hugh McGilvray, Bernard Burke, Fred T. Mills, Fred Otter, O. BEATRICE PRIEST FINE WILL SING TONIGHT

Beatrice Priest Fine is giving us what we all need, tonight, the best and highest in musical song. If she sang nothing but the popular or rag-time she would only give us what we are sure to hear at the ten-cent shows. Her program, however, gives us every style, but she has held to the brilliant in the first part and all English in the second.

PARTY COMING TO OAKLAND HAS LIVELY EXPERIENCE OFF GOAT ISLAND.

For six hours, from midnight Saturday night until after daylight yesterday morning, six young men and six ladies were marooned on a sandbar on the northeast corner of Goat Island, and neither tears nor curses helped them. The party left Belvedere early Saturday evening in a gasoline launch for Oakland to attend a concert, and arrived safely at their destination. They heard the concert and partook of the customary dinner afterward, and were in high spirits when they bearded the launch just before midnight for the return trip home. The run down the creek was most enjoyable—everybody chatted spoke of the enchantment of the night ride, and merriment was the only notable thing aboard, when the launch suddenly bumped on a sandbar and came to a dead stop.

The engineer cursed and explained things, but the launch refused to budge. The members of the party got out the bathtubs and prodded the bottom of the bay, but without effect. The ladies asked many questions, and were reassured, but the cranky old launch refused to proceed. Some of the most gallant of the young men jumped into the water, but even this did not help matters, and finally all hands resigned themselves to the inevitable and sat down to await the next high tide. It came soon after daylight, when the launch floated and the angry engineer made haste to reach Belvedere.

SWITCHMAN HURT; MAY LOSE HIS ARM

William Loker, employed by the Southern Pacific Company as a switchman, met with a painful accident at the West Oakland yards early Sunday morning, and as a result he may suffer the loss of his right arm. While attempting to throw a switch he lost his footing and fell against the moving car, sustaining a severe fracture of the right arm and severe abrasions and contusions of the right thigh. He was immediately removed to the Receiving Hospital where he was attended to by Dr. F. R. Stratton. Later he was removed to the company's hospital in San Francisco.

IS SHOT 5 TIMES; HE LIVES

Most Remarkable Case of Endurance is Presented.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—After the removal of five 28-calibre bullets from his body, Joseph Guidivinski, a railroad detective, shot August 16th in a battle with a freight thief, was pronounced yesterday to be on the road to recover.

The detective, according to the Fordham Hospital surgeons, presents one of the most remarkable cases of physical endurance that has ever come under their care.

After his battle with the thief, Guidivinski was believed to be dead, but he was driven three miles to Fordham where it was found he had been shot over the right eye, while another bullet had entered the forehead near the left temple, two lodged in the abdomen and a fifth struck the left thigh, piercing the bone.

He revived and was immediately put on the operating table. After three hours' work two bullets were removed from his head.

Two weeks later an attempt was made to reach the bullets in his abdomen. One had lodged in the wall of the stomach, but the other was in the spleen.

This necessitated a long and extremely difficult operation. Two minor operations followed and the last piece of lead was removed yesterday.

MASS MEETING OF PROHIBITIONISTS

Arrangements have been completed for the conference, reception and mass-meeting to take place in the Howard-street Methodist Church of San Francisco tomorrow afternoon and evening on the occasion of the presence of Charles R. Jones, Chairman of the National Prohibition Committee, and Clinton N. Howard, lecturer for the National Reform Bureau and organizer of the Prohibition Union of Christian Men of Rochester, New York. These two notables are just returning from the National Temperance Congress, in session last week at Portland. They will speak twice in California, this meeting in the Howard street church, San Francisco, and at the Long Beach conference on September 28, 29, 30.

The afternoon meeting will begin promptly at 2:30, and consist of brief addresses by Messrs. Jones and Howard, followed by responses by local temperance people. Andrew L. Johnston, grand secretary for the Good Templars, will take as his subject, "We're to Blame." Miss Anna Chase, state secretary for the W. C. T. U., will speak on "A Training School for Prohibition Voters." Rev. George Morris of Alameda, and Rev. F. A. Doane will also speak. Visitors are coming in from surrounding towns: Dr. Farman and wife of Napa, C. E. Clark of Napa, Dr. J. L. Bollins of Colfax, A. C. Banta, Robert Summers and Dr. Pratt of San Jose, W. P. Fassett of Loomis, Alex. Beck of Watsonville, and James B. Vance of Santa Cruz. A great many are expected to come over from Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley.

An informal banquet will take place at the Puritan restaurant at six o'clock. The upper dining room will be reserved for the temperance people. In the evening Mr. Howard will speak on "Save the City." Howard is pronounced by many to be the foremost temperance orator in the country today. His reputation is growing. During the past few weeks he has been addressing audiences between 2,000 and 3,000 people. In his own city of Rochester he has spoken 151 times, and the last time one of the largest auditoriums in the city was crowded to the doors. Good music will be provided for both afternoon and evening meetings.

Messrs. Howard and Jones arrive tomorrow from Portland, and Wednesday afternoon they take the train for Southern California.

UNDERTAKER SAYS: 'THEY CAN'T STOP ME'

J. E. Henderson, an undertaker, will establish an undertaking business at 1300 Webster street, in spite of the protests of the fashionable residents of that part of the city, and in spite of the ordinance prohibiting undertakers parlors outside of the fire limits, so he says. He has already leased the Knight House, one of the handsomest in the Lakeside district, from William Keegan, bought carpets and furniture, hung his sign out, and is now ready to bury the dead. Henderson says that if the ordinance is passed it will not apply to him, as he already has an established business, and if it does, it must not discriminate against him, but must be applied also against many other undertakers who are in business outside the fire limits. Henderson says: "They can't stop me. My attorney has advised me that I have a perfect right to go ahead with my business, and I shall do so. The ordinance is not passed yet, and I am already in business."

SURPRISE GIVEN BERT CRAMPTON

FRIENDS WALK IN ON HIM IN HONOR OF HIS BIRTHDAY.

POINT RICHMOND, Sept. 25.—A surprise party was given to Bert Crampton, in honor of his birthday, Thursday evening. Refreshments were served and those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Asher, Mrs. S. A. Stansberry, Floyd Crampton, Miss Stansberry, Roy Naugle. The function took place on the bay beach. Mrs. L. L. Baker continues to improve in health and is now able to be around the house. She and her aunt, Mrs. B. Fuller, who is visiting her from Chicago, will go to Los Angeles, probably next week, to be gone a few weeks in the hope of benefits to be derived from that salubrious climate. William Bonner has built an addition of two large rooms to his house on San Pablo avenue, making it a much more commodious home. Mr. and Mrs. G. Kirby have rented their house and moved to the city for the winter. Rev. Calfee and family moved into the Brown cottage on scenic road recently. Forty cars of salmon went out on the Santa Fe yesterday bound for New York. J. C. Walters has become day assistant operator at the Santa Fe depot.

THELMA WILL PLAY AT YE LIBERTY

Beginning tonight and running the entire week, with the usual matinee Saturday and Sunday; the attraction at Ye Liberty Playhouse will be Marie Correll's world-wide story, "Thelma." This play will be hailed with delight by the patrons of Ye Liberty Playhouse, and is being presented by Mr. Bishop in response to the many requests he has received for its production. The scenes of the play follow the story closely, and shows the

SMART WAIST FOR LADIES.

Pattern No. 255.

All Sizes Allowed.

A vest of tucks and insertion is the important feature of the modish waist here pictured and, as any variation from the plain shirt waist is always welcome, this trim design will satisfy every taste. Linon, lawn, canvas, madras, lace, down and silk are recommended for the making, and the vest would look well of a contrasting material, if desired. The pattern is in 7 sizes—2 to 44 inches bust measure. For 35 bust the waist requires 6 yards of material 36 inches wide, 4 yards 27 inches wide, 2 yards 36 inches wide, or 2 yards 44 inches wide; 5 yards of insertion.

Price, 15 cents.

EVEN NUMBER CLUB DOES ODD THINGS

A number of young people of Oakland, connected with one of the leading churches, met one evening recently and organized what is to be known as the "Even Number Club." The membership is not limited as to numbers and at no time must comprise other than an even number. Candidates at all initiations must be paired. Any member living in a house bearing an odd number must promise to change his or her place of residence or change the number on the house, and any member found walking on the side of a street bearing odd numbers will be subjected to a heavy fine. Cars bearing odd numbers will not be patronized by members of the club, and any member found at a table around which is gathered an odd number of persons or an odd number of plates will receive a reprimand for the first offense and be fined for the second. Those who have been so unfortunate as to have lost an eye, arm or limb, are barred from membership. A short railroad ticket commutation book bearing odd numbers will be accepted by members of the club, and each candidate is required to take a pledge not to participate in any meeting, religious or social, where an odd number of persons are present. Members of the club are supposed to make a purchase where the amount charged for the article is expressed in odd figures. Stenographers and clerks are several in the club—are requested not to operate a typewriter bearing odd numbers. A short list of candidates is required to be kept at all meetings, the speakers being cautioned to confine their remarks to words containing an even number of letters. The speeches are to be recorded in shorthand, and the member delivering the one containing the highest number of odd-numbered words is to be fined an amount not exceeding 24 cents. The officers of the club are designated by even numbers only, the president and the secretary being known as Nos. 12 and 24. The "knap" and the hour fixed for the next meeting is guarded with the utmost secrecy.

POPULAR RESORT REOPENED.

The Press saloon changes hands and is reopened. A. S. Olney, who is well known as the popular landlord of the Rose hotel of Pleasanton, having sold the hotel and removed to Oakland, has purchased the Press saloon and cafe at 463 24th st., Oakland. The Press is one of the best furnished places in Oakland and under Mr. Olney's management should become very popular.

John A. McCall's Lame Excuse

It is all right for John A. McCall, President of the New York Life Insurance Company, to say that Democratic campaign managers made his life a burden by dogging him with importunities for contributions. Partisan political organizations never refuse contributions from any source, and they are always on an eager hunt for sources of revenue. Mr. McCall was classed as a Democrat, and is under obligations to the Democratic party. He affiliated with the wing of the party to which Alton B. Parker belongs. He is reputed to be a millionaire several times over. It was quite natural, therefore, that the managers of Parker's campaign should solicit him for contributions to the campaign fund. It is hardly likely that they asked him to give them money belonging to the policy-holders of the New York Life Insurance Company. They may have expected him to contribute from his individual wealth, but it is not likely that they would have asked any questions had he given them money or objected to taking it had he offered a contribution from the insurance company. Consequently we may properly assume that the parties were on the same plane in seeking campaign contributions.

But Mr. McCall is mistaken in assuming that because the Democrats were no better than the Republicans he is to be acquitted of wrongdoing. On the contrary, his revelations in regard to his former political associates do not excuse him in any particular. His offense does not consist in giving money to campaign funds. It does not consist in giving it to the Republicans. His case would be no better had he contributed to the Democratic instead of the Republican fund. It would not have been improved had he given equally to both.

It was the giving away of trust funds in his custody to be employed for partisan political purposes that is morally if not legally culpable. It was a breach of trust closely akin to embezzlement. If he had a right to give the money of the policy holders away to politicians, he had an equal right to give it away to churches, colleges, libraries and charity organizations. He had no right to give away the money of other people for any purpose.

The policy holders of the New York Life belong to all political faiths. Mr. McCall was secretly giving away money belonging to men belonging to other parties to aid the Republican party in defeating their ideas of Government policy and in some instances their own individual aspirations. This is a wrong on its face.

He gave away the money of Democrats to defeat Democrats. Suppose he had given away the money of Republicans to defeat Republicans. What then? Suppose he gave away the money of Protestants to aid the Catholic Church or vice versa. His conduct is inexcusable in whatever light it is viewed. It indicates an utterly debased moral tone, a sense of honor incapable of distinguishing between his own property and the property of others. He was in a financial alliance that drew him into a political alliance into which he dragged the insurance company. He used the funds of the company to aid his financial allies. He gave them away money belonging to other people to aid his political allies. His methods deserve only the severest condemnation.

The Alameda Argus disclaims any intention to be offensive in its references to THE TRIBUNE and the Cook outrage case. Unfortunately, its language does not square with its professions. In the same breath with the expressions of amity and good will it repeats the injurious imputations which provoked the sharp rejoinder in the first place. If our contemporary has not succeeded in making itself understood it is because it has made a singular choice to convey its meaning. Its continuous efforts to gird at the Alameda correspondent of THE TRIBUNE indicate a personal animus which should not be permitted to appear in the columns of a public journal. In denying that it has backed out of the Cook case it courteously asserts that this paper backed into it. It is a waste of time to argue with a person who applies injurious epithets and makes insulting accusations without knowing that they are injurious and insulting. However, we will take the word of the Argus for it that it desires earnestly to bring the scoundrels who abused the little Cook girl to justice. That is a far more important matter to the public and to the people of Alameda in particular than what newspapers may say of each other, though it is not amiss to remark that carping at other persons who desire to have justice done is not the best means of bringing the guilty to punishment. It is a good deal like shooting one's comrades in the back. In any event it creates dissensions where there should be none and diversions at a time when there should be united action and singleness of purpose. The man who stops to throw stones and rail at his friends is not likely to be an effective ally in a fight. His motives may be all right but his discretion may be classed with the "dampfool" variety.

Fraudulent naturalization is closely affiliated with corrupt municipal government and is the logical result of swarms of ignorant aliens of the lowest class herding in the large cities. It is material ready to the hand of the ward boss and the corruptionist high up who employs him in exploiting public service franchises and other utilities of local administration for private profit. The ignorant and venal alien is as naturally the creature of the boss as the boss is the creature of the respectable financier who hires him to debauch the instrumentalities of government. When fraudulent naturalization is stopped one of the tentacles of municipal corruption is chopped off. The boss is shorn of some of his power and the "business pull" in politics loses something of its potency.

Municipal ownership in Chicago promises to be as good an issue for the Dunne administration to get out on as it was to get in on. There is a wide split between Mayor Dunne and a section of his following, and as fast as a program is announced it comes in for a vigorous knocking from the inside. The trouble is due to the fact that a set of political tinkers have undertaken to construct a great financial and industrial organization requiring the highest type of business sagacity. Men who make a profession of politics and are possessed of neither business training nor financial grasp are unable to enlist the sympathetic interest let alone the active aid of moneyed men and institutions in schemes to exploit public utilities. It is easy to pass resolutions in conventions, but when it comes to applying their declarations to actual conditions fiscal and legal considerations necessarily come to the fore. When they do the emperic and the politician find themselves helpless to redeem the promises with which they have beguiled the unthinking voter. That is precisely what is the matter in Chicago today. The "immediate" municipal ownership program has encountered the shoals of finance and the statutes.

THE BITER BITES HIMSELF.

Editor TRIBUNE.—Thomas W. Lawson's statement of his relations with F. Augustus Heinze in the October, "Everybody's" appears at an unfortunate moment for the prospects of his confidence fund. It will be remembered that he has advertised for cash to the amount of $50,000 with which to engineer for its subscribers a Wall-street deal. And there has been much in his career and record to logically encourage such a speculation on the part of the public. But his description of the manner in which he betrayed Mr. Heinze in his attempt to relieve Amalgamated Copper from the embarrassment of that gentleman's attack should warn the public that his campaign cannot be trusted in emergencies. His story of Mr. Heinze's campaign against the New York forces, culminating in a victory for the Montana gentleman which made ruin of the Eastern party inevitable; of the failure experienced by their most skillful agents in their efforts to divert him or even relieve the situation; of even Mr. Rogers' inability to cope with the Western operator and relinquishing the effort as "impossible," and then of his own (Lawson's) victory over him reads like a romance, as sparkling and scintillant and, too, with the same deeper color of veraciousness that characterize the Lawson literature in spots. But it is an unconscious confession of treachery and dishonesty on the part of the narrator. Mr. Heinze, even if he displayed all that offensive self-esteem and coarseness of fibre, vanity and indifference to the sufferings of Lawson's confiding investors portrayed, is also evidently a man who plays the game according to its rules, and every blow he gave was within the boundaries of that square authorized and endorsed as "fair" by the Wall street prize ring. In such a fight it is plain to the reader from Lawson's own account that he would have gone down before the iron hand of the Montana champion the same as Rogers and the rest of them did. And so he fought foul, how foul and how fatally to himself and to the possibility of any trust in him, his own story tells. He has turned the limelight on a good many nefarious mysteries, and we thank him for it. He may illuminate more. But his own shadow as cast by his own dark-lantern is that of a highwayman. And Mr. Heinze, albeit silent, has the best of the argument.

HAIL BRYAN!

The following poem by J. W. Dutton was read on the occasion of William Jennings Bryan's first visit to Oakland. As Mr. Bryan delivered an address at the State University this afternoon, it is appropriate that the lines addressed to him nine years ago should be reprinted.

Hail Bryan! Men with brawny arms
Who wield the sledge and till the soil,
Free men, from factories and farms,
These welcome you—these sons of toil.

Great Commoner! The poor man's friend,
The foe to greed's aggressive power.
In unison our voices blend
To hail thee Hero of the hour.

Thou peer of Webster or of Clay,
Our Country's hope, the Nation's pride,
To you the Golden State today
Her gate of welcome opens wide.

HOW TO CONCOCT A COMIC OPERA

Make the time any time, lay the scene anywhere;
It may be on earth or on Mars or the sun,
Nobody will notice and no one will care—
If it's probable that will be fault number one!
And do not forget that the curtain must rise
On a crusty old innkeeper, who, as he tries
To fill the tin cups that the villagers hold,
Is jostled and scoffed at and hustled about
By maidens and men who are presently told
Of the coming of one whom they hail with a shout.

The girl who is lovelorn must meekly appear
And sing for a spell, with her hands on her heart,
While the crusty old innkeeper, hovering near,
Gets wise to her secret—that's always his part.
She's the general's daughter, or maybe the king's,
And love must be strong in the song that she sings;
And the one whom she loves must be sentenced to die
For something she knows that he never has done,
And her cruel old father must rant and step high,
And want her to wed some despicable one.

Don't forget the soubrette; she must dance like a fay,
And flirt with the sorrowing maiden's proud dad;
They must have a duet; the old man must get gay,
And warble a topical song, and the lad,
Who is ready to die for the girl, must, of course,
Be a tenor sent out in command of a force
Of heave-ho, my hearties, who long for a fight,
And have nothing to do but cause maidens to sigh;
End the act with a riot of song, and red light,
And the brave Stars and Stripes waving proudly and high.

The sweet village maidens who romped in act one
May all be court ladies in act number two,
Or have taken the veil, each to serve as a nun—
Anything that you wish they'll be ready to do.
The bold and brave packies, when next they appear
May be bandits, or each as a gay cavalier
May join in the chorus, but still the fair maid
Must sing of her love, while the chipper soubrette
Upsets the foul plot that the villain has laid—
Here somewhere ring in the bespangled actlet.

Sprinkle bar-room jokes lavishly through the whole thing—
The highball goes duty as humor today—
And let the loose-jointed comedian sing
Of the longing he has to be back on Broadway.
Be sure that the plot shall contain nothing new;
Let the songs in which sense is detected be few;

The haughty old father must yield at the end,
So that the soprano and tenor may wed;
Finale—hurrah! Let the curtain descend,
With Old Glory waving some more overhead.

—Sam E. Kiser, in Chicago Record.

CAPTAINS RESPONSIBLE FOR SMUGGLING CREWS.

(New York Herald.)

Secretary Shaw, of the Treasury Department, has directed masters of ocean vessels to see to it that members of their crews do not try to smuggle goods into this country, and has directed that masters who fail to prevent such attempts shall be fined as provided by law. The order was made in connection with a fine of $2,583 imposed upon Capt. A. Thaprich, of the Standard Oil Company's steamship Diana, in which tobacco was taken to Hoboken. The imposition of the fine was approved.

Capt. Thaprich said he had received word of the seizure first through his agents when he was at Rotterdam, and that his steward had then admitted having smuggled the tobacco in a tank. Agents and officials of the Standard Oil Company said they believed the captain innocent and applied for remission of the fine. This was denied. The Standard Oil Company has instructed their masters to examine every ship after it sails for America from a foreign port.

SCHOOLBOY ENGLISH.

Here are some choice specimens of "associated ideas" drawn forth from the schoolboy mind during the tortures of examination: "Queen Elizabeth was never married. She was so fond of dresses she was never seen without one, and she was beautiful and clever with a red head and freckles." "The provisions of Oxford were butter, eggs, cheese, bread and beer." "The constitution of Clarendon was no shattered through grief that he died quite a young man before he had time to grow old."

"Lord Alfred Tennyson was a celebrated poet, and he wrote a lot of beautiful poems with long hair, and studied so much that he used to say to his mother, 'Call me early, dear.' His greatest poem is called 'The Idle King.' He was made a lord, but he was a good man, and wrote many oads."—London Tatler.

HIS LEG CUT OFF, HE WORRIES ABOUT WHIPPING

(Chicago Special to the New York World.)

Thinking only of the whipping with which his mother had threatened him for jumping on cars, Robert Miller, twelve years old, sought to "put back" his right leg that was cut off under a freight train at Fifty-eighth street and Union Avenue today.

"Gee, mother told me she would give me a whipping for jumpin' on the cars, and I can't go home this way," he said.

When the police arrived he begged them not to tell his mother what happened to him.

LATEST ENGAGEMENT.

The latest engagement of importance in society is that of Miss Jessie McNab, one of the most popular debutantes of the season, and Judge Frank Kerrigan, the well known jurist of San Francisco. It was planned to keep the engagement a secret for a few weeks longer but it crept out and the popular couple are receiving congratulations from a host of friends.

Miss McNab is a charming, winsome girl and a favorite in younger society circles. She is the daughter of James McNab.

Judge Frank Kerrigan is a San Francisco man of great prominence in social and political circles. For eight years he was Justice of the Peace; the past six years he has served on the bench of the Superior Court, and last year was again elected for another term of six years. Judge Kerrigan is a member of the Family Club and also of the Cosmos Club and is active in each, as well as other social and legal circles. No arrangements have yet been made for the wedding and no date is mentioned.

ANNUAL BALL.

The members of Co. F, N. G. C., are making elaborate preparations for their annual ball to be given Tuesday evening, November 21, at their Armory, Maple Hall. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the orchestra of Company F, under the direction of Private St. Elmo M. Powell. The decorations for the affair are being kept secret, but the prettiest effects of the season are promised.

The ladies' night has been changed to the third Monday evening of each month and is an invitational dance for members and their friends. The regular social dance is the first Monday evening of each month.

PLEASANT TRIP.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Mehrmann have returned from a pleasant trip through Portland, Seattle, Vancouver and Yellowstone Park. They were accompanied as far as British Columbia by their daughter, Miss Helen Mehrmann, and Misses Lou and Eda Curdts.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is announced of Alexander Hirschberg and Miss Deborah Lobbe of this city. The wedding will be an October event.

PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Piedmont Springs was the scene of an enjoyable outing last Saturday, when a party of young girls tendered a pleasant surprise picnic to Miss Isabella McAvoy.

A dainty luncheon was served at the Club House and an agreeable afternoon was spent by the following: Misses Anna McDonnell, Mabel Broad, Lillian Joyce, Irene Gallagher, Naomi Fleweger, Alice Gloria, Josephine McAvoy, Ella Guichard, Mary Hannon and Isabella McAvoy.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

Mrs. William Hamilton Morrison was hostess Friday afternoon at a delightful children's party when a dozen little ones were entertained in honor of Master Bobby Morrison. The dining room was decorated with flowers and a great Japanese umbrella held long streamers of red ribbon to which were fastened dainty favors of every description for the little guests.

Among those present were Mrs. Walter Starr and Master Starr, Mrs. Mallett Searles and Emily Searles, Mrs. Irving Lundborg and Helene Lundborg, Mrs. John Roberts, Miss Jane Roberts, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Katherine Dunn, Mrs. Newton Koser and Newton Jr., Mrs. Thomas Crellin and Eleanor Fitzgerald, Miss Mona Crellin, Mrs. Thomas Bailey Pheby, Mrs. Wallace Everson, Miss Everson, Miss Dottie Everson, Miss Mahony, Miss Emma Mahony, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mrs. John Valentine, Jr., Mrs. Isaac Hyde, Miss Hyde, Miss Bessie Palmer and several others.

GUEST OF HONOR.

Mrs. Victor H. Metcalf was the honored guest Saturday at a luncheon given by Miss George Strong at her home on Tenth street. The affair was one of the most enjoyable planned for Mrs. Metcalf during her stay here.

Mrs. Metcalf leaves tomorrow for Washington.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smyth of East Oakland announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Maybelle, to Rowland Petty of Fruitvale.

The wedding will take place Oct. 24 at the home of the bride's parents.

A WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Constance Marlson and Norman Miller will take place before the holidays. Mr. Miller is building a pretty home at Berkeley.

THREE WEDDINGS.

This week is to be the week of weddings on this side of the bay, when three of Oakland's fairest maids will become brides. The marriage of Miss Cordelia Bishop and Dr. Harry Alderson will take place Tuesday evening at the First Congregational Church, the Rev. Chas. R. Brown officiating, in the presence of about 300 friends.

Miss Bishop has chosen for her attendants Miss Anita Oliver as maid of honor and Miss Carolyn Oliver and Miss Lillian Remillard as bridesmaids. The wedding gown is to be of cream messaline satin, trimmed with Duchess point lace. The gowns of the attendants will be of pale pink chiffon satin, and they are to wear pink chiffon picture hats, carrying flowers to match their gowns.

William Alderson, brother of the groom, will act as best man. After the ceremony at the church an informal reception will be held at the Bishop home.

On their return from their bridal trip Dr. Alderson and his bride will reside in San Francisco, where a charming home has been built for them.

On Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock in the Church of the Advent, East Oakland, Miss Bessie Haven will be married to Hiram Tubbs Hall, the Rev. Carson Shaw officiating. About 500 invitations have been sent out.

The bride will be attended by Miss Laura Haven as maid of honor and five bridesmaids, including Miss Susie Hall, Miss Katherine Brown, Miss Evelyn Hussey, Miss Charlotte Hall, Miss Fanny Plaw.

Thornton White will act as best man and the ushers will be Shirley Houghton, Rudolph Schilling, Robert Foster and Alfred Plaw.

Miss Carolyn Williamson and William Deal will be married the same evening at the home of the bride's brother, Willard Williamson. The bride will be attended by her younger sister, Miss Frances Williamson, as maid of honor and a trio of bridesmaids, including Miss Edith Beck, Miss Roberta Deal and Miss Bessie Fillmore. Little Laura Williamson, a niece of the bride, will be ring bearer. Ritter Williamson of Tacoma will act as best man.

Mr. Deal and his bride will make their home in San Francisco.

SUCCESS OF BENEFIT.

The production of "His Excellency the Governor" given last Tuesday evening at Ye Liberty Theatre was a great financial success and the receipts will amount to nearly $800. Great credit is due to the committee in charge of the affair and to the young people who took part in the play, for the success of the venture.

WALKER-OLIVER.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Walker of Grass Valley and Edwin Letts Oliver took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents in Grass Valley. It was the largest society event that has taken place this season and the society people of the city were all present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Farver of the Episcopal Church. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Miss Anita Oliver of Oakland was maid of honor and Richard Hazeltine of San Francisco was groomsmen.

The bride is a graduate of Miss Head's Seminary of Berkeley and is popular in the younger set in society in Grass Valley. Mr. Oliver is a University graduate of the class of 1900 and has charge of the cyanide plant at the North Star mines.

A number of Oakland society people went up for the event. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Roland G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Letts Oliver, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts, Miss Florine Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Letts Oliver, Miss Carolyn and Anita Oliver, Mrs. Frank I. Kendall, Miss Gertrude Taylor, Miss Whitaker, Ralph Jones and George Jensen.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver have gone to Del Monte on their wedding trip.

SAN ANTONIO WHIST CLUB.

The San Antonio Whist Club will hold another of its popular whist parties on Thursday evening next, September 23, in St. Anthony's Hall, East Sixteenth street and Sixteenth avenue. A large number of prizes will be awarded. All lovers of whist are invited.

HOME WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Pearl E. Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wheeler of 381 Thirty-fourth street, and Charles A. Cantwell of Austin, Nevada, took place at the home of the bride's parents on Thursday evening, September 21. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Gardner of Stanford University Chapel.

Miss Claire Wheeler of Tulare City acted as bridesmaid, and Frank English of San Francisco supported the groom as best man.

Miss Wheeler is a graduate of the ant stay in Los Angeles.

AT THE TWENTY-THIRD AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH IN EAST OAKLAND, THE PASTOR, ROBERT WHITAKER, SPOKE LAST NIGHT ON "WHAT A WOMAN LIKES IN A MAN," TAKING AS HIS TEXT THE STORY OF ABIGAIL, IN I. SAMUEL, XXV. THE SPEAKER SAID:

"Abigail was a woman who knew a real man when she met him, and yet she married a brute. A good many other women just as sensible as she was in general have done the same thing.

"How she happened to do it nobody knows. Perhaps other folks fixed up the match for her. Fixed up marriages are a little more apt to turn out fool marriages than the home made product.

"Perhaps Agibail married Nabal for his money. He seems to have had more of it than he had of anything else, except bad temper. The woman who takes a man because she wants his money-bags is apt to find that she gets a good deal more than she bargained for.

"Or perhaps she took him for the same reason that Israel took Saul as king, because he showed up big and handsome. Size and strength and a pair of trousers will fool a very bright woman sometimes into thinking she's got a man.

"Probably Abigail's experience with Nabal helped her to recognize a man when she met David. Half the tragedies of married life are due to the fact that a great many men and women don't know what kind of goods they want until the cloth is cut.

"A woman can send a hat back to the store, and have it made over. But she usually has to make her husband over herself, and if she doesn't know how to cut and sew she'll simply spoil what she's got.

"When a woman goes shopping without any idea as to what she wants she's pretty sure to come home with a good deal that she won't want very long. And when she gets a husband without thinking she'll do a lot of thinking afterwards.

"A clear cut ideal is a woman's best protection against foolish marriage. If she thinks right about men in general before marriage she is apt to think better of her own man in particular after marriage.

"There are lots of silly women who like veneer and polish and filigree work in a man, and can't understand why the paint and the stucco work fall off before the honeymoon is over.

"But there are plenty of sensible women with sensible ideals, and considering what they have to choose from, and the limitations of their choosing, they are doing pretty well. The wonder is not that we have so many unhappy marriages, but so few.

"The first thing that a woman of sense likes in a man is manliness. Perhaps courage is the best definition of manliness. Not bravado, nor momentary enthusiasm, but real grit, moral backbone.

"Next to this, and growing out of it, is tenderness. Cowardice is always cruel, and cruelty usually cowardly. A really strong man is always a tender man, and weakness never shows itself more than in want of tenderness. Consideration is the first mark of a gentleman.

"Most women whose likes are worth while like Godliness in a man. They may put up with want of religiousness, but they want the substance of religion, even where they are indifferent to the forms.

"The woman who justifies her husband for being out of the church will commonly insist that he is more of a Christian than half the men in the church. Yet half the moral failures of men are due to the fact that their women-kind want revenue from the man more than they want religion in him.

"When women want their husbands to be saints as much as they want them to be cashiers there will be more men in the churches. The men make the golden calf, but there are always plenty of women to dance around it."

Nat Goodwin Talks of DUELING HIS WIFE Maxine Elliott Keeps Her SILENCE

MAXINE ELLIOTT, wife of the actor, Nat Goodwin

Actress Gives Advice to Other Women

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—With Nat Goodwin in Hot Springs; Carter De Haven striding about his apartment muttering vengeance during the time he was not occupied in inditing duellistic epistles to Goodwin; Florence Parker, the pretty cause of the trouble, in her home at 234 West Forty-fourth street, reading contracts and offers of engagements from importunate theatrical managers, and beautiful Maxine Elliott in White Plains, unconcerned about the entire affair, the Goodwin-De Haven feud rested tonight with no loss on either side.

Friends of the Goodwins were recalling today an interview of some years ago, in which Miss Elliott gave what she considered infallible rules for governing, or, as she said it, "managing" husbands. Many were wondering what action she will take, since her husband has brought criticism upon himself by indulging in a much a reporter, "are like colds—you can never tell when you are going to catch about the affection of another woman."

"Then, too, they are like the pocket in a fashionable frock—you can never tell where to find them."

"Is it wise to look?" she was asked. "It depends upon what they are doing," she said, pensively.

"How did you reform your husband?" she was asked.

"Manage" is a much nicer word," she answered, and then continued: "For one thing, you must never ask them to do what you want them to do, for they won't. The best methods are kind but firm."

"And when your husband—well, when—when he—er—er—did things you—"

"I kept quiet."

And Maxine Elliott has followed her own advice about keeping silent, ever when all the theatrical world is wondering what action she will take, since her husband has brought criticism upon himself by indulging in a much a reporter, "are like colds—you can never tell when you are going to catch about the affection of another woman."

THIS GIRL SAYS MEN SHOULD WEAR CORSETS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Now it is man's turn to wear corsets, says Miss Linda Ross Wade, and she gave up a trip to Chicago last week and a trip to St. Louis this week to prove this to New York's men.

He has got to give up wearing half hose, too, and don stockings and hose supporters.

Miss Wade has promised to give the men a treat in the way of little talks on "How to Be Beautiful."

Corsets made for the masculine form are trimmed fore and aft with an edging of lace and bunches of ribbons, while swathing them about are yards and yards of string.

"Of course," said Miss Wade, "I don't expect that men will jump at the idea, for they seem to think that wearing corsets that give them a belt-line is going against nature. What if it does nip them a bit at first? Any one who is beautiful must suffer and there is no reason why men shouldn't have their turn."

DIVORCED BY MISTAKE; ARE MARRIED AGAIN

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Divorced by mistake twelve years ago, after being married thirty years, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Butler, of Athens, Pa., were remarried at Waverly yesterday.

Some twelve years ago a misunderstanding arose between the pair, and the wife sought the advice of an attorney, who advised a separation. The action was begun, and resulted in a divorce.

For twelve years the pair lived apart; then by accident they met, and learned, for the first time, that the trouble arose over a mistake. She agreed to forgive and forget, and the romance terminated in the wedding ceremony.

THE NEW "AMERICA."

My country, 'tis of thee,
Land of fecundity,
Of thee I sing;
Land where our father vied,
Land of the patriarch's pride.
From every cradle side
Let "Goo-goo" ring.

Let "Da-da" swell the breeze
From every pair of knees,
All, all day long,
Let infant tongues awake
Throughout the night, and make
This life, without mistake,
One grand, sweet song.

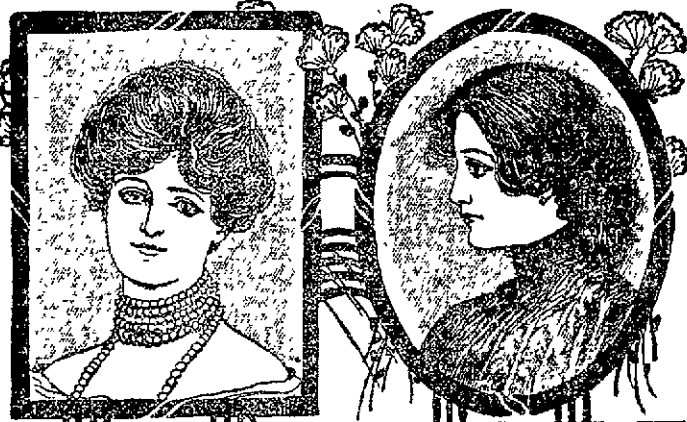

"Author" that is to be,
Father of family,

In thee we trust;
Let every groom and bride
Fling the brave slogan wide:
"Anti-Lace Suicide!
Pike's Peak or Bust!"

Tired, Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes—Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children—How Thousands of Mothers Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

Mrs. Chester Curry

Mrs. Chas. F. Brown

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysteria, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involve; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly. The ill of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous dependency, "the blues," sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism. Do you experience fits of depression with restlessness, alternating with extreme irritability? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one minute you laugh, and the next minute you feel like crying? Do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you; all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound, pain in the ovaries, and especially between the shoulders; bearing down pains; nervous dyspepsia, and almost continually cross and snappy? If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration. Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous prostration than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; thousands and thousands of women testify to this fact.

WOMEN TO MEET

And Other Social Doings at San Lorenzo.

SAN LORENZO, Sept. 25.—Garden Circle, Women of Woodcraft, will give a dance on Saturday evening, October 21, which will be first class in every respect. It will celebrate the first anniversary of the Circle. F. Rose will have charge of the music, W. Jacobson of the floor, M. Branin of the advertising and decorating, Henry Gansberger, Miss O'Connor, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. A. Wells of the supper. The Club Boys' drama to be erected in Hayward under the auspices of Thyra Lodge Society Dania, has been postponed to October 14. Miss Nellie Roberts will reopen her dancing classes at Oakland Wednesday, Sept. 28, at Fruitvale September 29, and at Piedmont October 1. In each place from 3.30 to 5 p. m. Miss Emily Crossen of The Dalles, Ore., is visiting here. Henry Ervin has taken a position in the railroad shops at Oakland. Mrs. Henry Deppa is recovering. Her sister, Mrs. Longin of Sutter, Amador county is with her. C. Just and family have moved to Oakland. Drury of San Francisco has purchased the business of the Tank saloon. The San Lorenzo bridge has been replanked by H. Griesberger.

THE ARGONAUT. A highly interesting article in the Argonaut for September 25th treats of an extraordinary collection of books now in San Francisco. The collection consists of an almost complete list of the first editions of Oscar Wilde's various writings, together with manuscripts, autographs, and other rarities. Many interesting facts in the career of Wilde are related in the article, which is quite lengthy. Among the other notable features will be a story of unusual character, entitled "The Lone Fisherman," a letter from New York by "Plancher," describing the performance of Shaw's "Man and Superman," a review by Mrs. Josephine Hart Phelps of the Mansfield play, "The Violin," and a criticism of Tetzlaff, in "Lancelotti" at the Tivoli, in which Porter Garnett scores the San Francisco public roundly for its perverted taste in music.

GIRL MISSING, POLICE SEARCHING

The question of declaring Ruth Heilander a dependent child came up before Judge Waste Saturday, but while the mother was on hand and Miss Sweet of the Associated Charities, the girl was not present and it is the opinion of Policeman Jack Murphy that she has run away. The Heilander home is in West Oakland and the father recently was found wandering out into the bay and rescued by men who saw him. The child, Murphy says, can run like a deer and is as wild as a though she had never been restrained. She has been running about with boys of questionable character and it is proposed now to have her placed in a home where she will have proper care. The matter was continued until this week until the child can be found.

FATHER YORKE ON THE TURNING OF TIDE

Forces Which Are Working Against Progress of the Gaelic Movement.

GALWAY, Ireland, August 30.—I have since my arrival seen a good deal of Ireland, and have watched closely the working of the new movement. The tide surely has turned. It is now steadily Irishwards. Some places the stream is strong and carrying everything before it. Some places it is barely perceptible. Some places there are curious cross-currents. Some places there is back water—but these things are found at the turn of every tide.

Of all the professional men in Ireland, the priests have done the most for the language; yet, strange to say, one of the chief forces making yet against the language movement is an ecclesiastical force. I do not believe that the ecclesiastical are conscious of what they are doing; but the evil influence is there all the same.

KEY TO SITUATION. Everybody admits that the districts that still speak the Gaelic naturally are the key to the situation. If the language can be conserved in those districts, the fight is won. Hence everything, no matter from what motive it is done, that weakens the hold of the language in the Gaelic-speaking localities is a blow at the program of Irish Ireland.

Not a small part of the Irish boy's and girl's education is the catechism. The catechism obtains a public recognition that no other study can get. Examinations in the usual school courses are held by an inspector who comes and goes, and no one knows the time of his entrance or exit. But the examination in the catechism is a different thing. For months before it is known when the Archbishop, or the Bishop will arrive. The village is deserted, the local band is practicing night and day. The children are working at fever heat. On the fateful date all the surrounding priests come in, the chapel is crowded, the Prelate sits in state, and the children are brought to him to be solemnly and publicly catechized, and then there is the Confirmation.

One can well imagine what an effect such a function as this has in the minds of the children. It is the Irish chiefly spoken, and in these is Irish chiefly spoken. It is the episcopal visitation. His Lordship has received the pastor's account of the state of the parish. Perhaps there are scandals, perhaps there are public sinners to be rebuked, beneficial enterprises to be commended, and, above all, the instruction of the children to be criticized. The school masters and mistresses are there as anxious as the children themselves about the verdict. Even the clergy have their perturbations, for some of the Irish bishops are no respecters of persons, and the parish priest or the curate are often the first to feel the force of their reprimands.

EFFECT OF MOVEMENT. It will be readily seen what an effect on the language movement must be created when on such an occasion as this the priests and teachers and children are publicly rebuked for not knowing the catechism in English. We all know how hard it is to teach the catechism in any language, and we have had experience how difficult it is to retain it in memory. Where children speak Irish at home, and think in Irish, the Irish language is the proper language in which to have religious instruction conveyed, but when in addition they are compelled to learn the catechism in English, a language they don't understand, it is easily seen how Irish-speaking children are penalized. The result is that where the Ordination does not know Irish the catechism is taught only in English, and for all intents and purposes might be taught in Choctaw. I was speaking of a little boy yesterday from one of the Western Islands, where nothing but Gaelic is heard in daily life. He was a little English boy, but knew his own language well, and how to read and write it. In what language had he learned the catechism? In English and such English! The nearest thing to Gaelic in English is a language that he doesn't understand, it is easily seen how Irish-speaking children are penalized.

BISHOP WAS ANGRY. I have never heard that the ordinary in question has ever rebuked the children for knowing the catechism in Irish, and I don't believe he would. But such a rebuke was administered the other day in a Southern diocese, which should be one of the strongholds of the language. The children who were presented for Confirmation had been instructed only in their own language. The Bishop was extremely angry because they did not know the catechism in English, and he pressed himself very forcibly in condemnation of the teachers who had taught the children their religion in the language of their fathers and mothers. Locally there was considerable discussion about the Bishop's action, and he offered an explanation which is very instructive and interesting. He said that he was in sympathy with the Gaelic League, but that he had to look to the future of the children under his care. Especially in the district in which he was confirming, these children were raised for export. They had to go to America, and as English is the language of America their faith would be in danger if they did not know the catechism in English.

PRAYERS IN ENGLISH. Whether the Bishop's contention that these children must emigrate be well founded or not, I cannot say; but I greatly fear he is laboring under a grave misapprehension as to the preservative effects of the English catechism. There are no better Catholics in the United States than the Germans of the first generation, whether they be massed in German colonies or scattered in the general population. Yet these Germans don't know the catechism in English, and what is more, they don't want it. They are not going to insist on Almighty God by praying to him in broken English, and they make many sacrifices to have their own churches and their own priests and preaching in their own tongue. An acquaintance with the history of American colonization will show that neither in faith nor in material prosperity is a lack of knowledge of English in the newcomer any particular drawback.

But here is a point to which I fear sufficient attention is not given. It is that self-respect is a great preservative of one's ancestral religion. If you have a good opinion of yourself and your people, you are likely to have a high opinion of the Church in which you are very likely to grow ashamed of your people's religion. As a matter of fact, the falling away of the Irish in the United States has been enormous. I don't believe any one knows just how much the defection has been, but everybody who has experience of the country knows that there has been a big drop. The evidence of this loss is everywhere, and chiefly among what we call the respectable classes. Business men, professional men, railroad men, men of note in the political world, it is surprising to find how many of them are Protestants or nothing. Irish names and the number that will tell you of some Irish Catholic ancestor. Why were these lost to the Church? The reason is plain. Their ancestors were people of a high order of intelligence, and they had to get on in the world. They had to ground into their bones that the Irish were an inferior race; therefore with the Irish nationality went the Irish religion, and their children were raised Protestants or nothing.

THE IRISH CATHOLIC. The Irish name or the Catholic religion is not an insuperable detriment to worldly advancement; the magnificent position obtained in America by the Irish Catholic shows, but then people are not so stupid as to think that the Irish are a superior race, and in the old days when the great motto and motive of Irish education was, "Spoken English and be damned," it is no wonder that so many carried the principle a step farther and embraced the English religion in order to ensure their respectability.

Another back current that must be reckoned with is the number of priests ministering in Irish-speaking districts who do not know the language. This is a most complicated question. Many of those priests are the sons of the people from which Gaelic studies suffered, and now they are past the time when a language may be acquired with readiness. Yet the people are there in a pitiable condition asking for the bread of life, and there is no one to bring it to them. The Gaelic League at one time raised a cry of Gaelic-speaking priests for Gaelic-speaking districts, but the result of such a cry would be to penalize the Irish speakers and to encourage those who speak English. The Gaelic-speaking districts are the poorest in every diocese, and if the language test were invoked the fat places would be monopolized by the un- Irish. The bishops are trying to meet this difficulty by making Irish a compulsory subject for entrance to Maynooth. This is a step in the right direction, but we can't help thinking that something else might be done with the young men just on the mission. If they are paroled in Gaelic, learn enough Gaelic to hear the confessions of the people, a few months' vacation from those parochial duties might stimulate them to acquire what can only be described as a most necessary portion of their priestly equipment.

I make mention of these two forces opposing the language not to insinuate that they are directed of malice aforethought against the movement, but because they show the difficulties the movement experiences even when it has the friendliness of the people. As a matter of fact, the most hopeful sign of the future is the multiplication of centers of energy in the young priests coming out of Maynooth. The Gaelic League is a well-organized and strong society, but it is not through the machinery of the Gaelic League that the work is being done. It is being accomplished by individual units, from whom as from centers the Gaelic League spirit radiates. In days gone by there was only one Father O'Growney; now there are hundreds of Father O'Growneys in every province.

BUSINESS MEN. The Irish lawyers, doctors and business men, as a body, are not taking their proper part in the movement. Here and there, however, one comes who is a certain attorney in Waterford, in whose company the hours fly as one listens to his stories and explanations and arguments concerning Irish Ireland; likewise a physician in Cork, who has a special music out of the pipes to search the very marrow of your soul; also a young employee of the County Councils, who made a long railway journey marvelously short by his account of every station and village, the history of every castle that crumbled on the hillside, and the legend of every saint whose names on the stations are to the uninitiated only cacophonous dislocations of the alphabet. But these are exceptions. It is to the young men we must appeal in such a cause as this, and while the clergy have in Dr. O'Hickey of Maynooth a man who is able to catch

FOR LAW AND ORDER

League to Act in 23rd Avenue and Fruitvale.

FRUITVALE, Sept. 25.—As the outcome of a mass meeting held yesterday in the Baptist Church in the Twenty-third avenue district, a Law and Order League was formed.

The Rev. Robert Whitaker, pastor of the church, acted as chairman of the mass meeting and after the organization was made permanent he was elected chairman of the executive committee. The other members of the committee are Captain Welch and G. S. Prosser. The members of the committee will appoint a committee of public safety, and the identity of its members will be known only to the executive committee.

The city and county authorities will be requested to grant the members of this committee of public safety official authority to make arrests that they may render efficient assistance to the minions of the law. Seventy-three members were enrolled in the league, and others will join at the next meeting. During the meeting, this afternoon addresses were made by the following clergymen: Rev. R. C. Jones, Rev. H. M. G. Brown, Rev. Franklin Rhoda of Fruitvale and Rev. Robert Whitaker, of Twenty-third avenue.

The following resolutions were adopted: "Whereas, the peaceful and law abiding people of this community, who are greatly in the majority, have been widely defamed and outrageously injured by reason of the recent outbreak of lawlessness and crime among us; and whereas, it appears that in spite of the shocking murder under the most atrocious circumstances of one of our most estimable and valuable young men, our streets are still unsafe and life and property still endangered by rampant hoodlumism and unabashed juvenile lawlessness; therefore be it Resolved, By the people of this community in mass meeting assembled: "1. That we call upon those parents among us whose boys are prowling our streets far into the night to the disgust and disorder of the neighborhood, either to exercise a more salutary discipline over their children, or falling in this, to rid the community of their presence.

"2. That as citizens and taxpayers we call upon the public authorities to give us at once such ordinances and officers as are necessary to secure us in the enjoyment of quiet and good order, and we demand that all necessary enforcement be taken without fear or favor against any and all boys and young men who are found loitering about the streets after reasonable hours without responsible guardianship, or excuse.

Resolved, also, that as law abiding people, anxious to conserve respect for the courts and for the forms of the law as ministers of public order, we deplore the leniency shown to one who has been notorious as a leader of juvenile lawlessness among us, and regard the verdict in his case as tending to encourage crime. With all due regard for those who are in authority by reason of the waywardness of their boys, we stand for the vigorous enforcement of the law, and for such punishment of offenders as shall make the law indeed a terror to evil doers."

PERSONAL NOTES. Miss Minnie Young of Denver, Colo. is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. McNeely of the Diamond barber shop. She will remain a couple of months.

Mr. Bimford and wife, of Tennessee, have moved into their new home on Fruitvale avenue, above Diamond, which they have recently purchased of Mr. Dury.

Dr. Welch of San Francisco was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. McKinlay at Diamond last week.

Dr. Jump is back from his vacation in St. Louis county.

 In the formative stage and mold them on Irish lines, it is unfortunate that the young lawyers and doctors have not this advantage, owing to the wretched condition of university education. But the university is a long story, and can wait.

AN OLD SAYING. Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed. It is an old saying, where there's honey there's bees; not so true as one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's a dandruff there's germs"—and to push the inference still further we may truly say, "Where there's dandruff there's Newb's Herpicide has been at work."

BOWLING

FLIRT WINS VINCENT CUP

BUT THE RACE IS PROTESTED

The annual race for the Vincent trophy was sailed yesterday by the yachts of the California Club fleet. Ten boats crossed the starting line, but only eight finished. Flirt with ninety seconds time allowance proved the winner in 1h 54m 5s corrected time, but there is some doubt as to whether the result will stand.

It was claimed by some of those who participated that the Flirt did not cover the entire course though the skipper and crew of the winning yacht deny this. The matter will no doubt be placed in the hands of the regatta committee composed of J. McManus, C. J. Vogel and Jack Sherry.

BEST TIME FOR COURSE.

The best elapsed time for the course was made by the Flirt in 2h 19m 55s. Jack Sherry's perhaps which sailed from scratch completed the course in 2h 24m flat.

The start was from an imaginary line between the Alameda mole and a stakeboat off the mole, and the course was to and around Angel Island, leaving the island on the starboard hand, through Raccoon Straits and back to the finishing line which was the same as the starting line.

HOW THEY STARTED.

The start was a one-gun start, the time of the yachts being taken at 12 30 p. m. The yachts were handicapped as follows: Flirt 90 minutes, Pilgrim, 47 minutes, Iola 6 minutes, Tigress, 20 minutes, Perhaps scratch, Alert, 2 minutes, Jessie E 7 minutes, Gypsy, 8 minutes. The table shows the result of the race.

Yacht	Finish	Elapsed	Corrected

AL KAUFMANN IS BUSY TRAINING IN ALAMEDA

Boxing entered extensively into Al Kaufmann's indoor work yesterday afternoon at his training quarters at Croll's Gardens Alameda. Billy Delaney's new champion was in high spirits as he stepped briskly into the gymnasium at 3 o'clock which was well filled with friends and acquaintances from the Olympic Club who had made the trip just to see Al put the gloves on. Delaney confined the exercise to boxing and heavy-bag punching which was intermingled with a dash here and there of fast shadow sparring to edge off the violent work and increase or keep up the speed acquired since the training started, a few days back.

KAUFMANN BOXES.

Kaufmann boxed ten rounds with old sparring mates Willie Fitzgerald and Ted Rydman worked two rounds on the sandbag an exercise which is very severe and is used chiefly to develop body punching and perhaps five minutes of imaginary boxing was the program in full yesterday, and it required less than an hour to run it through.

In his boxing Kaufmann displayed a wicked short right-arm jolt which he hopes to use to advantage on Harry Foley Thursday night.

WEIGHS IN PRIVATE.

When the work was finished and Al had been carefully bathed and groomed he weighed privately for Billy Delaney, and the weight was announced later as being in the neighborhood of 185 pounds. Delaney hopes to put Kaufmann in the ring at about two or three pounds lighter.

Joe Millet's place was crowded with sports yesterday to see Harry Foley put on the gloves with his sparring partners Joe Thomas and Jack Johnson. Foley worked well and expressed himself as confident that he would be able to whip his big opponent inside of a dozen rounds.

CHAMPIONSHIP GANS GETS IT CRICKET GAME GOOD AND PLENTY

After a fairly interesting contest the San Francisco County cricketers defeated the Alameda yesterday by a score of 129 to 75 and by so doing won the championship of the California Cricket Association. Captain Richardson won the toss and sent the Alameda to the bat first. The Alameda bowlers were the bowling of Lafferty and Richardson. Lafferty was dismissed in short order and Saunders took the count when the total had reached 22.

HARD HITTING

Bird and Ward then formed a partnership that was marked by some hard hitting, and 35 was telegraphed before Bird fell before one of Richardson's twisters. Freddie Croll added seven numbers before he received his quiver and brother George followed him quickly to the ground stand with one solus run to his credit. Lowe then joined Ward and by some strenuous cricket the total was boosted to 62 before Ward was caught out. Richter and Hanna coming in at the tail end and driving the price and the innings closed for Richardson and Lafferty bowled throughout the former taking seven wickets and the latter three.

THEY OPEN BAD

The County opened disastrously three good wickets going down for nineteen runs. Duquesne and Richardson have even settled down to steady play and 99 was recorded before Duquesne was finally caught in the long field. Tuttle then got busy with his little bat and as a result of some fine work accumulated 50. The game was now won and Richardson gracefully retired in order to give some of the others a chance to distinguish themselves. The game was left out with 12. The players forming the tail and were placed where they belonged. Richardson, Bird and Tiedeman Jr. all forgetting to contribute something to the general tally. Bird was the most successful batsman, having scored 50. Richardson, Bird and Tiedeman Jr. all forgetting to contribute something to the general tally. Bird was the most successful batsman, having scored 50.

Oakland took both games yesterday. In the morning Bill Devereaux was in the box and he was bumped good and hard, but his team-mates were there with spectacular plays and the game goes on the right side of the ledger. In the afternoon the Oaks took a ten-inning affair, thus winning a majority of the games in the series.

By long odds he is Baltimore's most widely known citizen. His name is a household word thousands of miles away. In all countries and beneath all skies admirers of refined sport look up to him and admire him. And so despite the fact that he has attained his eminence at the cost of much blood and anguish Baltimore should be proud of him.

TURF GOSSIP FOR THE LOCAL FOLLOWERS

BY THE SAUNTERER.

Danny Maher is still holding his great form in England.

Charles Cash is reported to have lost in the neighborhood of $32,000 on the season in the East.

Secretary John B. Dillon has begun the preparation of the program book for the fall meeting at Latoria.

The string of horses raced by S. K. Hughes at Latoria are now at the Kentucky Association track, Lexington.

Hurst Park, Curiosity and Midge are resting up at the Castleton Stud in Kentucky for the winter campaign in the colors of S. W. Street & Co.

There were over one hundred entries on the card at Gravesend the other day. Ten years ago it was considered an extra good card for that track if there were fifty entries in one day.

The two-year-old black filly, Home Rule, by Commando—Maid of Erin, which showed splendid trials for James R. Keene, has been sent to Castleton Stud because of a dislocated hip.

"It is almost a certainty that Jake Holtman will be the starter at Latoria's fall meeting," said the Cincinnati Enquirer. "Arrangements to that end are said to have been made."

Romanelli put up such a bad ride on the mare Don't Ask Me in the third race at Gravesend recently that the crowd next to the rail hooted and jeered as he came down the home stretch.

Much as the English pretend to despise American customs they are gradually taking them on. For the first time in the history of racing in England, it is said, a band of music was in evidence at the recent Gatwick meeting.

Applications have been received by Superintendent Gorman for practically every stable at Belmont Park for the autumn meeting and many owners will probably have to stable at other tracks during the approaching meeting. At present there are more than 200 horses at Belmont Park, and there are additions practically every day.

Jimmy McLaughlin says he does not intend to bring Oxford to California next winter. He will leave the grey colt at one of the New York tracks and when he returns from the Pacific slope in the spring he will take him up and prepare him for the big handicaps. McLaughlin is said to be anxious to win the Brooklyn with the son of Faraday.

Since Hapsburg sired that good two-year-old Roseburg Hugh McCarren, Jr., his owner is sweet on his chances in the stud and last season bred the following mares to the half-brother to Hamburg Winepress by Strathmore—Pomona Ethel Wheat, by Puresbearer—Martha Burch, Miss Jack, by Escher—Linnette, Santa Teresa by St. Saviour—Penumbra Equity II by Bathampton—Balance II, Florida Rose by Parandole—Jennie S, Miss Enon, by Bon—Eonette, Banderole by Friar—Bandana Stannel, by Hymyar—Mattle Stanley, and Shave, by Inspector B—Pretense.

There was a row in the betting ring just before the fifth race at Gravesend the other day. The New York Sun says it was "because one of the book-makers, who hails from a southern clime, drew the color line when a negro tried to make a bet with him. The bookie told the colored bettor that he would not take a bet of any kind from him because it was against his principles. The colored man waxed angry and told the chalker that for two fives he would knock his head off. The chalker climbed down from his stool and made a lunge for his antagonist, but the track detectives were in the way and peace was quickly restored."

Malden, the bay gelding by Lissak—Mag Rapture, one of the most accomplished cross-country performers of recent years, broke down so badly in a steeplechase that his owner, J. W. Colt, ordered him to be destroyed.

It is announced that Yankee Consul has been retired for the season.

Confederate winner of a two-year-old race at Gravesend, ran in the name and colors of Walter B. Jennings, he having just bought him from J. L. McGinnis for $3,700. Jennings won the good son of Bridgewater and Winsome III out at the first asking.

The stewards at Gravesend announced their ruling in the Bar le Duc case under investigation for alleged doping as follows: "Further entries to be refused from the owner of the horse and the revocation of the trainer's license is recommended."

"It has been decided that Lady Amelia is not to race again," said trainer Dick Watkins in discussing the future of the horses in the stable of E. R. Thomas. "The filly is too much in the hands of the handicapper to make it worth while training her any longer. She cannot carry her speed further than six furlongs and there are no condition races at that distance in which she may run. It is not my intention to send her to Holmdel Stud, however, until around December 1. I will keep her at slow gallops and let her take on flesh gradually. Mr. Thomas has not entirely made up his mind that Hermis is to be returned to the stud next spring, but it is highly probable that he will conclude to send the great son of Hermance to Holmdel also. In that event, Lady Amelia will be bred to him. I will take Flycatcher and St. Ballance to New Orleans to race this winter. They like the mud and should do well at the Crescent City. Quardrille will probably go South, but I am in a bit of a quandary as to what to do with Diamond. If I can teach him to break away from the barrier he will prove a most serviceable horse, but if his disposition does not improve, I guess he will stay at home this winter."

Garnet Ferguson has shipped a full carload of horses from Gravesend to Oakland, comprising six of his own, two belonging to A. B. Spreckels and one each in the interests of Dell Fountain and Jack Atkins.

ELEVENS HOLD GAMES IN SECRET

BERKELEY Sept. 25—Now that there is to be another freshman game on Wednesday and a varsity game on Saturday, both squads have been kept hard at work over Saturday. The ever-closed doors of California field are shutting in all the secrets of each team. No one excepting trainers coaches and the football men themselves know what new features the week is to bring forth in the style of play. It goes without saying however that speed is the great underlying characteristic being developed in each team. Fast and heavier scrimmage work is given the men each day. The linemen as well as the backs are made to feel the importance of all getting into the plays together, and doing it fast.

The freshman line-up in Wednesday's game will be much the same as in the first two games. It seems to be the policy of the coaches this season to give a good man a chance to learn his position well and to learn it with the same men playing the other positions in each game. The varsity line-up is still a question to those on the outside however. The wise ones on the bleachers are scratching their heads and bawling many guesses about what players will get into the game and the positions they will play.

Sprains, E. A. Read, Cisco, Texas, writes, March 11, 1901. My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless, and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains.

OAKLAND HIGH SCHOOL'S CHANCES IN FIELD-DAY

Oakland High School intends to make a good showing next Saturday at the University of California under the path.

The Bay Counties League Field Day is scheduled to take place on that date, and the Oakland boys are working hard to carry off the honors.

The Oakland bleachers will be decorated with the school colors and the new blue hats and megaphones will add to the beauty of the affair. Bolster, the new yell leader, has made a splendid start this term, and he intends to break all previous records of the school rooting—in volume and effect.

TEAM'S CHANCES.

Captain Sites of the track team said,

"It is impossible to say just how we will turn out, but if we do not have any hard luck, the prospects for the team are fair."

"I am confident that every man will work his hardest to bring victory to his team and school."

Sites, Scupham, M. Donald and Huntington will hold down the sprints, and Walker and McNamara should lead in the quarter.

Free McBan and Hassard will wear the blue jerseys in the half and mile. Dozier and Peaslee should be point winners in the high and low hurdles.

The weight events should be well handled by Greely.

Vall should capture the pole vault, and Seifert has proven to be a strong relay man.

BASEBALL AT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE

The baseball season was formally opened at St. Mary's college yesterday for the fall term. A great crowd was on hand to witness the national sport as two games were pulled off in the afternoon. At 1:30 the independents or third team of the college defeated the Martinez Bros. of Berkeley and at 3 o'clock a game took place between the Gantner and Matern team of San Francisco and the Oak Runs, also from the city. The former teams won handily.

For the independents the score was 6 to 5 and for the Gantner and Materns 3 to 0.

On next Sunday afternoon the Young Phoenix or second college team will play a benefit game with the Pensacolas at Idora park. The college diamond can be let on next Sunday both forenoon and afternoon. Address Alvin B. Grosh, field captain for arrangements.

AN ABSENT-MINDED MAN.
"I'm up against the banner absent-minded man of my life," said George Moser, the clerk of the Coates House this morning. "He went away last Tuesday, and we found of all things in the world that he had left his evening dress-coat and prayer-book behind him. Wednesday we received a wire. 'Send left luggage my hotel but he didn't say where it was and he left no address when he went away. Yesterday I got an indignant letter protesting against our carelessness but it was written on plain paper and contained no address. So the dress-coat and prayer-book are still undelivered and we can't find their owner.'—Kansas City Times.

Commencing September 15th on continuing until October 12th, the Southern Pacific Company will sell round trip tickets to Portland and return account Lewis & Clark Exposition at the following rate:
Ten day tickets $20.00, fifteen day tickets $25.00, twenty-one day tickets $30.00. Tickets good going on train leaving Oakland at 8 30 a. m. daily and on Saturdays only at 9 00 p. m.

BASEBALL ON U. OF C. FIELD

BERKELEY Sept. 25—In the second game of the series of baseball games between the colleges, the college of commerce last Friday defeated the college of social sciences by the large score of 22 to 13. Neither team showed any brilliant indications of varsity material although the balance was entirely with the college of commerce. In the seventh inning they piled up a total of nine runs. The two teams were opposed to each other with the men in the following positions: Commerce—Ennet, 9b, catcher J. R. Gabbert, 9b, pitcher R. Warner, 9b, first base, W. H. Wright, 9b, second base, E. J. Wright, 9b, shortstop, R. H. Van Sant, 9b, third base, D. C. Cromwell, 9b, right-field, E. Vollmer, 9b, left-field, G. Warren, 9b.

Social Sciences—G. Warren, 9b, catcher G. B. Blankenberg, 9b, pitcher, Tadlock, 9b, first base, Harris, 9b, second base, R. Rankin, 9b, third base, J. D. VanBecker, 9b, shortstop, H. J. Rogers, left-field, D. L. Levy, 9b, center-field, P. C. McClinton, 9b, right-field. The college of commerce team is now eligible to play the college of agriculture team, which defeated the chemistry representatives on the diamond last Wednesday. The game will be played Friday afternoon at 4 p. m.

The college of commerce team was scheduled to play the civil engineers Wednesday afternoon at the freshmen football game scheduled for that date, however the game will be set for some other date.

PERCENTAGE BASIS.
With the continuation of the games between the colleges it is planned that the different teams will better represent the entire college. It is now a large part of each organization is made up of men from one class. These players were simply chosen for the purpose of making the series might be started. As the games are played however, it is desired that the best possible team be secured from each college. It has also been proposed that the tournament be put on a percentage basis, that each team play every other team and that the team finishing with the highest percentage of games be declared the winner. These matters will be settled within the next few days by the different captains and managers.

Owing to the sickness of some of the seniors and the absence of other players from both teams the inter-class championship game of baseball between the freshmen and seniors was not played Saturday. The date for the game has been arranged for Thursday afternoon of this week.

NOW TRY SANOZOL

LOTION AND SOAP

Positive Cure for all Skin Diseases

The wonderful discovery of the famous specialist in skin disease, A. J. Fulton, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y., is Sanozol. Sanozol treatment is external only.

SUFFERERS FROM Eczema, lupus, herpes, Ringworms, Psoriasis, scrofula, skin cancer, Itch, scabies, tinea, eczema, lichen, syphilis, and all other forms of ulcerative, scaly and parasitic skin disease find immediate relief and permanent cure by the use of Sanozol. It removes pimples and blackheads and cures sweaty or itching feet.

Sanozol Lotion was also the curative agent through which Dr. Fulton accomplished the marvelous cure of a case of Lupus that attracted attention throughout the country, described in the Brooklyn Eagle of March.

Sanozol Lotion has been used to accomplish the now famous cure of skin cancer described in the New York World of March 31st.

TESTIMONIAL

"I am happy to give you my testimony. Indeed, I do not think I can do enough for the merits of Sanozol. I was unable to attend to business for the year and had to leave my home for this. My case had been diagnosed as Syphilis by eminent physicians. I found no relief until I was advised to use Sanozol. I am now perfectly cured. I not even a suspicion of my old trouble remains. I can heartily recommend Sanozol Lotion and am satisfied that you and my family will use none but Sanozol soap for the future."

DR. WINIFRED P. LEWIS, 35 Cedar Street, New York.

Write for testimonials and full particulars of SANOZOL. Sent on receipt of price of bottle, 25c. Sanozol Lotion, full size, 75c; soap, 50c per cake or jar. Address: Sanozol Laboratory, Dept. A, 100-115 Madison St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
